White House Pressure May Be Applied to Gain Margin in Upper House; Two Solons Cited

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—The supreme court today concluded handing down opinions without ruling on constitutionality of the old-age pension or unemployment insurance provisions of the social security law.

The court announced it would conclude its present term on June 1.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—The lash of White House displeasure snapped over the senate today and Postmaster General James A. Farley apparently took command of the administration drive to expand the supreme court from nine to 15 members.

The court itself meets at noon, possibly to render an opinion on the constitutionality of unemployment insurance.

SUBWAY KILLING PUZZLES POLICE

Paris Agents Seek Clues As Hostess in Night Club Is Stabbed

PARIS, May 17.—(UP)—Murder in the subway, in which an attractive night club hostess was stabbed to death by a killer who vanished within one minute of the slaying, presented the famous French secret police today with one of the most puzzling mysteries in years.

Six persons waiting to board a first class coach of the train which rolled into the Porte Doree station last night saw through the car window the end of the crime.

The victim, 30-year-old Leticia Nourissat, was sitting upright, alone in the carriage. As the train halted, the jolt threw the body to the floor.

The entering passengers, thinking she had fainted, ran forward to help her but started back in horror. A six-inch knife had been driven to the hilt into the back of her neck, behind the right ear.

Her lips still moved but she was unable to make any sound and died in a few minutes without giving any clue to the murderer.

The crime and the getaway from the locked car must have been accomplished with lightning speed, because just one minute elapsed between the time when the train left its starting point at Porte Charenton station, with the girl alive, and its arrival at Porte Doree with the victim drawing her last breath.

The position of the knife made suicide out of the question.

Police first asked: how did the Protested Drudgery

QUESTIONED by federal authorities in connection with the shotgun slaying of her husband, William White, 24, a star athlete, Mrs. Ivory White, 85-pound, 16-year-old Indian child bride of the Cattaraugus Indian reservation near Lawton, N. Y., said she shot her husband in a protest against a life of drudgery. The shooting climaxed a series of quarrels in which White allegedly, berated his wife for her love of pretty things, her distaste for drudgery of primitive reservation life and her lack of attention to their dog.

DELMER ERNEST, ATTORNEY, DEAD AT AGE OF 59

Delmer E. Ernest, 59, an attorney in Russell, Ky., until he lost all his possessions in the recent Ohio river flood, died Sunday at 12:20 a. m. at his home 487 E. Franklin street, of complications. Mr. Ernest, a son of Noah Ernest, of Stoutsville, had been a resident of Circleville for four weeks.

Surviving, besides his father, are his widow, Mabel Carnes Ernest; a son, Billy D. 9, and a brother, William A. of Canton, O.

Mr. Ernest was affiliated with the Masonic lodge in Russell. The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the home with burial to be in Maple Hill cemetery, Stoutsville, in charge of Crites and Van Cleave.

MISSING CO-ED MAY BE HIKING THROUGH SOUTH

CLEVELAND, May 17.—(UP)—Investigators believed today that Ruth Baumgardner, missing Ohio Wesleyan university co-ed, might be "hitch-hiking" through the south.

Joseph W. Smith, southern representative for a Detroit furnace company, wrote the suburban Lakewood girl's parents of a couple whom he had driven from Knoxville to Nashville, Tenn. May 7.

"The boy was about 20," Smith wrote, "and called the girl 'Ruthie' and 'Bumby.' She called him 'Frenchy.'"

Smith's letter said the couple told him they had come from Delaware, O. (seat of Ohio Wesleyan) through Asheville, N. C. and were bound for Texas.

Investigators for Miss Baumgardner's family said "these are the hottest clues" yet.

The girl last was seen May 3 at Austin Hall, a dormitory, at Ohio Wesleyan. She was a senior and 21.

INDIANA MAN READY FOR DEATH; TOMB SET UP, AND FUNERAL RITES PREACHED

COATESVILLE, Ind., May 17.—(UP)—Wade Millman, 88, was prepared for death today.

He has imported and set up his own tombstone fashioned his own coffin, and yesterday he preached his own funeral sermon. Even his pallbearers have been paid off—a fact in which he takes particular pride.

Five thousand persons attended his funeral services yesterday in tiny Canaan rural church. Three hundred jammed into the pews and the rest gathered outside to listen through open windows.

SIX-POINT FARM PROGRAM AIRED

Secretary Wallace Tells Plan To Replace A. A. A., Ruled Unlawful

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—Farm leaders and the department of agriculture today completed a six-point farm legislative program to take the place of the old A. A. A.

Department of agriculture and officers of the American Farm Bureau federation were reported in "substantial agreement" on the program and the only point of difference was the cost.

The program would employ the principle of the flexible tariff on agricultural imports, guarantee farmers and consumers stabilized prices through an ever-normal granary and provide a positive control of production.

PRICE OF MOST STOCKS LOWER IN EARLY TRADE

NEW YORK, May 17.—(UP)—Stocks fluctuated narrowly in light trading today. Prices sagged during the morning until leading issues were off fractions to more than a point. Some made meager recoveries. Utilities softened after early steadiness. Rails held their own.

Chrysler held a ¼ point gain at 109¼. Other issues to register gains included Western Union at 58 up 1¼, and Anaconda 49 up ¼. General Motors and U. S. Steel were unchanged.

Fractional declines were noted in Standard of New Jersey, Du Pont, Chesapeake & Ohio, Atchinson, Consolidated Edison, United Corporation preferred, Loew's, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, American Telephone and North American.

WALLACE LISTS FOUR TO CONFER ON LIGHT RATES

Edward Mason, Wallace Crist, Nathan Groban and Fred Brunner were appointed by W. E. Wallace, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Monday, as members of the committee to confer with councilmen and representatives of the Southern Ohio Electric Co., on electric rates.

A conference of the three groups will be held in the near future for a general discussion of the commercial light rates offered by the company.

A. R. Stacey, of Cincinnati, a representative of the Fairbanks-Morse Co., spoke at the Chamber of Commerce meeting on municipal light plants. The speaker cited instances in which municipal plants had proven economical and an advantage to public interests.

Stacey explained the city must first determine whether or not a municipal plant is wanted. He said a survey made about five years ago could be revised for an estimate of plant costs.

Youngster Tells Officers He Has "Two Daddies"

NEW YORK, May 17.—(UP)—Mrs. Helen Tierney, 28, attractive blonde employed by a pleating factory, told police today that she was the mother of an 8-year-old girl found slain in the woods near Brookhaven on Long island and told a story of an attack on herself and her two children by a "strange man."

BROOKHAVEN, N. Y., May 17.—(UP)—A 4-year-old boy who told officers his name was "Jimmie Tierney" and that he had "two daddies," today accused his mother of slaying his 8-year-old sister, Helen, and said he believed she "hit me" too.

The boy, his head bruised and his throat cut, was found in the woods east of here 135 feet from the body of his sister, who had been beaten, slashed and burned.

The boy's first mumbled replies to questioners at the Community hospital, in Patchogue, had given officers the impression that his mother, too, might have been attacked in the woods. Later, however, he said that he saw his mother "hit Helen on the head."

Two Fathers Named
His "two fathers," Jimmie said, were named "George and Carman."

"Saturday Mommie and Helen and me were on the train," the boy said. "We got out at the station and my two fathers met us in a blue automobile. We drove in the automobile and then we got

POCKET PICKED, ELM STREET MAN INFORMS POLICE

Robert Wilkinson 609 Elm avenue, reported to police Saturday night that his pocket was picked of a tan billfold containing between $5 and $6, his fishing license, driver's license and some pictures.

He told officers he had purchased a pair of shoes in a local store and noticed a young man standing near him when he put the purse in his pocket after payment. Wilkinson said the man was about five feet, seven inches tall, weighed about 140 pounds and wore a light suit.

ALBANIA REVOLT BROKEN; TROOPS PURSUE REBELS

TIRANA, Albania, May 17.—(UP)—Government troops ousted rebels from Tepelini and Argyrokastron today, it was asserted officially, and continued to pursue them through southern Albania.

Official advices were that Ismet Toto, brother of the rebel leader, was killed in fighting on the Valona-Tepelini road.

Papers found on rebel dead and prisoners, it was alleged, tended to show that the revolt was of communistic tendency.

C.I.O. Continues Drive In Hocking Glass Plant

LANCASTER, May 17.—(UP)—George De Nucci, of Columbus, field representative for the Committee for Industrial Organization, said today formal charges against the Hocking Glass Co. would be filed with the National Labor Relations board.

LANCASTER, May 17.—(UP)—Representatives of the Committee for Industrial Organization said today they would proceed with plans to organize workers of the Hocking Glass Company, Lancaster's largest industrial concern.

George De Nucci, C.I.O. field representative for central Ohio, who was stopped at the city limits by Lancaster police Sunday while on his way to speak at a meeting of glass workers, was to report on the incident today to John Owens, state C.I.O. director.

De Nucci and Avery Dennis of Columbus were forced to turn back by police as they approached the city limits.

Stopped at Hilltop
"Just as we reached the top of the hill entering Lancaster on Route 31 we were stopped by a policeman," De Nucci said. "A police cruiser was parked in the middle of the street. All cars were being stopped."

"I asked Police Chief Gail Seiler what it was all about and he ordered me back in the car with an oath and told Mr. Dennis to turn around in the street and head for Columbus."

"There was a crowd of about 200 persons looking on. There were 12 Lancaster policemen in uniform and a number of deputies in plain clothes carrying clubs. Two of the deputies had machine guns."

"I protested to Chief Seiler that I had a constitutional right to attend the meeting in Lancaster and that I was not there to stir up trouble. The chief said there would

DATE OF DUKE'S MARRIAGE TO BE KNOWN TUESDAY

MONTS, France, May 17.—(UP)—The Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield intend to announce their wedding plans tomorrow afternoon, and it was believed certain that they had selected a day during the first week of June for the ceremony.

Herman L. Rogers, who with his wife entertained Mrs. Warfield at Cannes after her flight from London during the abdication crisis, is to make the announcement as their spokesman at the Chateau De Candé here.

The Duke, Mrs. Warfield, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and Lieut. Dudley Forwood, the duke's equerry, were dinner guests last night of Mr. and Mrs. Crafton Winthrop Minot of France and New York at their Chateau D'Azay, D'Azay-Sur-Indre, near here.

After the dinner Carl Codman, author and member of the wartime Lafayette Escadrille, presented the duke with a copy of his just-completed book "Contact," on war flying. Codman and his wife are house guests of the Minots.

AUTOS SMASHED IN ACCIDENTS AT THREE BRIDGES

Fatalities Narrowly Evaded As Cars Skid on Slippery County Highways

OBETZ MAN'S HEAD CUT

Route 56 Culvert, Scippo Creek Structures Hit by Vehicles

Eight persons were injured in a series of automobile accidents in Pickaway county Saturday night and Sunday. Four were hurt when two cars struck the same culvert on Route 56, about 12 miles east of the city, Sunday morning. Four others were injured Saturday night when an auto crashed through the guardrail and overturned on the Kingston pike at the Scippo creek bridge.

Betty Bradley, 16, of Waterville, suffered several broken teeth and cuts through the lips, and Mary Brown, 17, also of Waterville, received a bruised ankle when the car in which they were riding slid into the culvert on Route 56.

Three Uninjured

David H. Walbolt, 16, of Waterville, driver, told Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell the car skidded on the wet highway when he applied his brakes. The driver and Erwin Fischer, 16, and Albert Sautter, 16, the latter two also of Waterville, escaped uninjured.

Walbolt's car swerved across the highway, Fissell was told, and a car driven by Charles R. Page, Jr., 25, of 1348½ N. High street, Columbus, crashed into the same culvert to avoid striking the first wrecked car. Both Mr. and Mrs. Page suffered cuts and bruises on their heads.

Both cars were going east on Route 56.

Persons injured in the accident on the Kingston pike were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel James, 2064 Refugee pike, Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett, of Obetz Junction. Mr. Everett, 36, who suffered a severe scalp laceration and a bruised right leg, was treated at Berger hospital by Dr. H. D. Jackson. He was discharged at noon Sunday. Mrs. James suffered a cut on the forehead and the others had minor cuts and bruises.

"Aunt Emma Sees it Through," a comedy in three acts will be presented by the Washington township senior class on Wednesday evening, May 19, at 8 o'clock.

Louise and Kathryn Adair are two attractive sisters who are living with their old maid aunt Emma who carefully keeps them away from any suitors. Louise desires to marry, so she engages the services of a matrimonial bureau. The bureau sends three prospects, Dick Christianson, who was raised on a farm, Bud Gates and Jack Norris, two more modern youths. They find they are rivals for Louise's hand. But Dick is attracted by Kathryn and Bud, together with the help of Dick and Jack, attempts to "modernize" Aunt Emma, and teach her a few games.

Joe Sparks, another prospect sent by the matrimonial bureau, arrives late and is cleverly outwitted by Jack.

An abundance of comedy and diplomacy is portrayed by Jack.

Came across Don Wean parking his car at the postoffice, and from his cheerful smile felt sure something had come along to make him feel more than average.

"Don, what good thing can you tell me," We said to him. "I've been at Lawshee, down in Adams county, on an N. & W. assignment as telegrapher," he said. Then he told us he had passed the examination and was a telegrapher now and ready for a job. He is working as an "extra" and may be sent as a "sub" anywhere along the line. Told me it takes a year or more to learn telegraphy. The Wellington boys are learning it too. Lancaster Men Seek Pinball Game Permits

LANCASTER, May 17—Two Lancaster men who claim to be owners of the majority of pin-ball machines operating in this city announced today they would appear before city council at its next meeting, Monday night, May 24, and request legislation levying taxes on the devices and requiring licenses of the operators.

R. C. Boystel, 165 Marks-av, who said he owned 30 machines, and Chester O. Conrad, 403 South Broad street, who said he owned 20, defined their object as "eliminating machines operated by owners living outside of Lancaster." They estimated the total number of the devices in this city at 90.

"Twelve or 15 of these belong to outsiders," declared Conrad. "By licensing operators, these will be removed. To operate just a few machines, no owner will pay the $250 or $300 annual license we recommend."

In addition to such license, Boystel and Conrad proposed an annual $5 machine tax on each device, to be paid by the owner, and a $5 location tax on each, to be paid by the merchant in whose place of business the machine is operated.

Estimates $2500 Revenue

George Belhorn, Democratic councilman from the Fourth Ward, who brought up the subject of pin-ball machine taxation at last council meeting, today estimated revenue from the source proposed would total $2,500 or $2,600 per year. He said he approved this manner of raising funds and believed council would take favorable action.

At present, pin-ball machines pay no local tax or license. The owners pay 10 percent, federal excise tax and 3 percent state sales tax when they purchase the devices, which are bought at an average cost of $70 each, according to Conrad and Boystel.

New Contract Prohibiting
Strikes For Next 10
Years Approved

2,000 ATTEND CONFAB

Demand for More Salaries for Lesser Stars Okehed

HOLLYWOOD, May 17—(UP)—Movie actors and producers were bound today by a new contract that prohibited strikes for the next ten years.

The higher-salaried stars gave a few concessions, won about 30 in return, and their demands for better salaries for minor players, over which they had threatened to strike, were granted in full.

Two thousand actors turned out last night for the third decisive meeting of the Screen Actors' Guild in as many weeks. The executive committee, which has final authority to negotiate, announced that it had ratified the 10-year contract and that practically all major studios had signed it.

All Actors in Guild

Nearly all actors, from the $5 a day extras to the stars who earn a quarter of a million dollars a year, belong to the guild. It is directed by the executive committee, which includes President Robert Montgomery, Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone, Frederick March, James Cagney, Jean Muir and Lionel Stander. The question of strikes is decided by a vote of the senior group, comprised of those who earn more than $250 a week.

The guild first demanded a complete preferential shop. The new contract, in addition to outlawing strikes, provides that producers must hire extras, stunt men, "bit" players, free lance and stock players on a 100 percent guild basis; stars and featured players on a 90 percent guild basis, for the next five years. After five years, all actors must be guild members.

The stars asked nothing for themselves at first, but were willing to strike in behalf of their lower-paid fellows. In the new contract stars were awarded such concessions as the right to their screen names (Lucille Le Sueur, for example, is Joan Crawford), six more holidays a year and three weeks illness leave.

May Hire Some
As a concession, studios are permitted to hire 10 percent non-guild members to star or feature in pictures the next five years. Three non-guild stars or featured players may appear in two pictures if the producers turn out 40 pictures a year; in only one if the producers has less than 40 pictures.

TRIO ARRESTED

Police reported three arrests Saturday night, Beatrice Hall, 27, of E. Main street, Chillicothe, posted $10 bond to report in court on May 22 on a charge of breaking a bottle on S. Court street. Emmett Cook, 22, of Circleville, Route 5, posted $5 bond to report at 7:30 p. m. Monday on a drunk and disorderly charge. Frank Rodgers, 65, of S. Pickaway street, arrested for intoxication, was sobered and released.

MATINEE DE SEPTEMBRE

THE ECHO of far-off things murmurs in the reminiscent ear at the news that Paul Chabas is dead in Paris. He was the painter of a picture entitled "September Morn." It came from his brush in 1912 — a pleasant, academic, modest nude of a peasant girl standing in the water.

But a former Union soldier born in Connecticut, saw a reproduction in a New York shop-window in 1913, and this one nude from the ateliers of Paris became world-famous. "Too little morn and too much maid" — such was the artistic criticism of that greatest of critics of the undraped form, Anthony Comstock.

So the picture appeared on millions of calendars and posters and hung in thousands of homes, and in time Chabas came to consider it his chef d'oeuvre. The original went to Russia, and at last came into the possession of an Armenian oil merchant, in whose Paris home it now hangs.

This was all before the era of modern burlesque, musical comedies, night clubs, "art" magazines, nudist camps and general whoop-la. But who among us is able to give a precise definition of progress?

FOR MONDAY HOLIDAYS

A GROUP of well known writers and educators is advocating the establishment of Monday holidays in the United States. It is argued, reasonably enough, that no one is adequately benefited by a one-day mid-week holiday, as there is little let-up in the tension of industrial routine.

If, however, assert the proponents of the new plan, all outstanding holidays were observed on Mondays, no matter on what day they actually occurred, folk would have a chance to relax over a three-day period, returning to work on Tuesdays thoroughly rested and refreshed.

The universal acclaim that always greets Labor Day's long week-end offers food for thought in this connection. A prolonged respite would seem to offer the sort of release that does not bring the let-down of a too hurried holiday observance. In any event, the proposed scheme might be worth a try.

In this free land you need no title to be treated like a king. Just look like a generous tipper.

Nearly all men are honorable. The trouble is that each defines honor to fit what he wishes to do.

Putzi Hanfstaengel failed to get a birthday greeting from Herr Hitler. If the Harvard pianist is able to take a hint, he will stay right in England.

One of the most profound among the European diplomats has concluded that "the war in Spain is a threat to peace." Yes, it does seem to be open to that interpretation.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up to find the sun ashine and then before end of the coffee and morning paper session came the daily clouds and threat of rain. Out to learn that every horse under the hood of the gas buggy had strayed during the night, so set out afoot, finding the paves practically deserted. Noted plenty of litter in the downtown streets.

See by the paper that the Legion Auxiliary will conduct the annual Poppy Sale next Saturday. Last year did see many folk minus the red blossom and noted several citizens buy and then place the flower in pockets instead of on display. Really, one should be proud to wear that flower. Not so many years ago young Americans rallied around the flag and went overseas to win the World War for the Allies. Many of those young men are still in France, resting under row on row of white crocuses. Today in hospitals all over the land are thousands of other former soldiers, most of them hopelessly crippled as a result of being patriotic and getting in the way of German shot, shell or gas. Those cripples make the little red flowers sold by the Auxiliary on Poppy Day. They sell them to the Auxiliary and the Auxiliary sells them to you, or tries to. Personally, I enjoy giving a few pennies to lighten the eternal burden of some poor chap who gave everything except blighted life for his country. Buy a poppy and wear it proudly next Saturday.

Noted that the Chamber of Commerce Monday will hear an address on municipal light plant ownership. And that before the air has cleared of talk about municipal waterworks ownership. Wonder what has happened to the municipal sewage disposal plant? Have we, too, quit thinking in the terms of thousands and are no longer able to cypher in anything less than seven figures?

After Roosevelt what? A growing doubt there that probably will balk his judiciary re-organization bill when a show-down vote is taken in the congress. Many who have faith in the President are entirely unwilling to give unlimited power to his successor. Why, some of them say, the successor might even be a Republican. Personally, would rather have the fate of the nation rest in the hands of the nine intelligent, even though old, gentlemen of the high court than with one man. And many ardent Democrats feel the same way.

Many persons calling on George Forster, who is ill. There goes Charles Landenberger, the gardener, who was inclined to believe an unofficial weather prophet's forecast that the temperature would drop below freezing Monday.

Guests from Sidney arrived during the morning, so a day spent in recalling old times. John Whitney is a chap who tired of living here and there from coast to coast and finally decided to settle down in Sidney and remain if he starved to death. And he almost did, but he finally won and made his trip to the village in a bright and shining new automobile, all paid for.

LAWYERS BRING INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON — Watch for some fireworks within the Federal Communications Commission within the near future. For a long time the FCC has been one of the most haphazard and politically-minded institutions in Washington, and now some of the practices below its surface are coming to the top.

One of these is the custom certain radio lawyers have of corraling a bevy of Commission stenographers to entertain their visiting clients on dull Washington evenings.

Another is the substitution of papers in the Commission's files, accomplished by certain radio lawyers through the cooperation of friendly FCC stenographers.

Another is the setting up of dummy companies in order to secure or oppose the granting of wave-length licenses.

A group of righteous FCC Commissioners, irate at what has been going on under their own noses, are now investigating the later practices. They will expose the fact that a Washington law firm set up a corporation composed of three stenographers in order to file petitions with the Commission regarding radio licenses at Cheyenne, Wyo., Portland and Aroostook, Maine.

SIMPLE SYSTEM

The system is very simple. The dummy corporation applies for a license in order to prevent another company from obtaining it. Or again the dummy may get a license, then turn around and sell it to a bonafide company. Or the dummy may operate on behalf of the company which already owns a wave-length, and by applying for an additional channel, keep a competitor out.

While accomplishing all this the dummy consists of three stenographers.

Another FCC development attracting attention is the sudden reversal of Examiner John P. Bramhall in favor of increased power for the Boston station WMEX, in which ex-Governor Curley is reported to be interested. Bramhall had expressed opposition to upping the station in February. But suddenly and mysteriously he reversed himself.

There has been a lot of internal rowing among FCC Commissioners regarding a clean-up. Old-line Democrats in the FCC fear a congressional investigation. Progressive Commissioners welcome it. They may get their wish.

JUSTICE VAN DEVANTER

The current term will be the last that Justice Willis Van Devanter serves on the Supreme Court.

He has definitely decided to retire. Van Devanter is 69 years old and in poor health. His 27 years on the bench are weighing heavily on him, and he will take advantage of the new Supreme Court pension law and return to private life. Under this measure, fathered by Chairman Hatton Summers of the House Judiciary Committee, Justices can now retire on full pay — $20,000 a year.

Whether Van Devanter will announce his resignation when the Court quits for the summer, or wait until the President's judiciary bill has been acted on by Congress, still is in doubt. Opponents of the measure are eager for him to make his decision known immediately, as they are confident it would be the knockout blow to the Roosevelt plan.

Doctor Tells of Sources of Spring Hay Fever

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IT LOOKS as if American hay fever were going to conquer the world. This country has the worst fall hay fever in the world, but we are getting reports from Denmark that plants causing autumnal hay fever in the United States have found their way into Denmark through imported grass seed. Western ragweed has gained entrance there through imported chicken feed. It is a hardy variety, and it is feared that it will become one of the common weeds in Denmark. The sad part of it is the case of a patient, who is reported to have had to leave the United States on account of hay fever and went back to his native Denmark. There he was quite comfortable until two years ago, when his sensitivity showed up again.

Dr. Clendingen

It is time to remind you, therefore, that the period of pre-seasonal preventive treatment is at hand. Doctors who specialize in this treatment are somewhat divided as to whether the pre-seasonal or the perennial treatment is best. The perennial treatment means that immunization should take place all through the year. Pre-seasonal treatment means immunization for about three or four weeks before the attack is expected.

Our spring hay fever is no worse and no better than anybody's else. The first account of hay fever came from John Bostock, an Englishman, who described his own case in 1819, it being of the vernal or spring type.

Grass Pollen Responsible

Most of the spring cases are due to the pollen of the grasses; in early May some of the trees—elm, poplar, maple, oak, sycamore, walnut, elder and birch. It is difficult to see how some of these trees can be classified as the cause of hay fever, because the pollen is so tenacious and sticky. In late spring, timothy, orchard grass, blue grass and red top grass in this country are the usual causes.

It is time to remind you, therefore, that the period of pre-seasonal preventive treatment is at hand. Doctors who specialize in this treatment are somewhat divided as to whether the pre-seasonal or the perennial treatment is best. The perennial treatment means that immunization should take place all through the year. Pre-seasonal treatment means immunization for about three or four weeks before the attack is expected.

SONG

April, April,
Laugh thy girlish laughter;
Then, the moment after,
Weep thy girlish tears!
April, that mine ears

If I tell thee, sweetest,
All my hopes and fears,
April, April,
Laugh thy golden laughter,
But, the moment after,

THE BUILDING OF THE NEST

They'll come again to the apple tree—
Robin and all the rest—
When the orchard branches are fair to see,
In the snow of the blossoms dressed;
And the prettiest thing in the world will be
The building of the nest.
Weaving it well, so round and trim,
Hollowing it with care—
Nothing too far away for him,
Nothing for her too fair—
Hanging it safe on the topmost limb,
Their castle in the air.

Ah! mother bird, you'll have weary days
When the eggs are under your breast,
And shadows may darken the dancing rays
When the wee ones leave the nest;
But they'll find their wings in a glad amazement,
And God will see to the rest.

So come to the trees with all your train
When the apple blossoms blow;
Through the April shimmer of sun and rain,
Go flying to and fro;
Again
And sing to our hearts as we watch
Your fairy building grow.

The Original Evil!

The surgeon, the lawyer and the politician were debating the value of their respective callings to the human race.

"You fellows make me tired," said the surgeon. "It was a surgical operation that gave woman to the world. Where would the human race have been without that?"

"All very well," said the lawyer, "but we brought the world into order out of chaos."

The politician swallowed hard for a moment, but his eye lit up and he said triumphantly: "And where do you suppose chaos came from?"

CHAPTER 52

"MY DEAR," soothed Mrs. Smith as Jacqueline pointed a questioning finger at Lutman, "that's Colonel Lutman. You remember him, don't you? Come and sit down, dear, and . . ."

"Remember him!" exclaimed Jacqueline wildly. "I shall never forget him, mother—never as long as I live. You think he's your friend, don't you? You think he's all that's kind and generous and honest, don't you? But he isn't."

"Jacqueline!" exclaimed her mother sharply. "If you're going to talk like that . . ."

"I'm going to tell you, mother. He isn't kind and generous and honest. I always knew he wasn't, only you wouldn't believe me. He's just a dirty, crooked swindler!"

"Jacqueline!"

"It's true. I can prove it's true."

"Before you say another word, Jacqueline, listen to me. Colonel Lutman has just asked me to marry him, and I have consented."

Jacqueline flinched as though someone had struck her.

"Marry him? Marry Colonel Lutman? For heaven's sake, mother! You can't really mean that?"

"I certainly do mean it, and unless you are prepared to treat Colonel Lutman with the respect that is due to him . . ."

"Respect? Listen, mother. You've got to listen. You don't understand. He's foul—vile. The very fact that he has asked you to marry him shows how utterly vile he is."

Lutman was standing by the mantelpiece, resting an elbow on it, his face expressionless except for the suggestion of amused indifference in his eyes.

"Look at him, mother!" exclaimed the girl. "If you don't believe me, look at him! Do you think that if he had a spark of decency in him he could stand there like that and hear me say all I have said, and never utter a word? There's nothing he can say, because he knows it's true, because he realizes the game's up. He didn't count on my turning up. He thought it was all plain sailing now." She strode across to Lutman and faced him. "Haven't you better go?"

Lutman removed his elbow from the mantelpiece and glanced at Mrs. Smith.

"In the circumstances, Millicent," he said calmly, "it would perhaps be wiser for me to leave you. Jacqueline is obviously very much overwrought and hysterical, and as my presence seems to excite her . . ."

"No!" exclaimed Mrs. Smith. "Stay where you are, Colonel, please." She turned to Jacqueline. "You have behaved outrageously. Jacqueline. Bursting into the room like that and insulting the Colonel—I'm ashamed of you. Either you will apologize to Colonel Lutman . . ."

"I apologize for nothing, mother," said Jacqueline more calmly. "When you've heard all I have to say . . ."

"If you're nothing better to say than the wicked things you have been saying, you had better be silent. Something has evidently happened to upset you, and I'm sure both the Colonel and I are willing to make allowances. But you really must try to control yourself and tell us calmly what is the matter."

"All right, mother, I'll try to be calm," said Jacqueline. "Colonel Lutman has asked you to marry him, has he? And has he asked you to sign a deed like the one I signed?" She saw her mother's quick glance at Lutman, and smiled. "All right, you needn't answer; I can see that he has. And

Miriam L. Barnes Bride Of Emmett Barnhart

Akron M. E. Church
Wedding Scene
Saturday

The marriage of Miriam Lucille, only daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Barnes, 44 Byers avenue, Akron, and Mr. Emmett Wesley Barnhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barnhart, of Montclair avenue, took place Saturday, May 15. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Akron. The father of the bride read the service, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Brown, of Akron.

During the ceremony a program of nuptial music was played by the church organist.

The altar was decorated with palms and great baskets of lavender and white lilies, while four seven-branched candelabra cast a soft glow over the bridal party as they approached the chancel.

The bride wore a gown of white silk net over satin, made with a tight bodice and full court train. Her full length veil was caught to her head with a crown of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Miss Helen Carpenter, her maid of honor, wore orchid silk net over a matching satin slip, fashioned similarly to the bride's dress. She carried a bouquet of orchid lilies.

Miss Wahnta Barnhart, only sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Nancy Cox, of Norwalk, served as bridesmaids. Their dresses were of a delicate shade of orchid, and were of the same material and styling as the gown worn by the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of orchid lilies.

Little Miss Mary Ellen Robinson was in a floor length dress of taffeta of a light shade of orchid. She carried a basket of flower petals, which she scattered in the path of the bride as she approached the altar on the arm of her father. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. John Caldwell, of S. Court street, who served as best man. The ushers were Mr. George Colville, of Circleville; Mr. Edward Haecker, of Circleville, and Mr. Clarence Ray Barnhart, of Mansfield.

Mrs. Barnes, mother of the bride, wore peach silk marquisette and lace over satin, with a shoulder corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Barnhart, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in a blue silk lace, with a shoulder corsage of orchids.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes attended by 150 guests.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart are graduates of Ohio Wesleyan university. Mr. Barnhart is bookkeeper for the Winorr Canning company. After their return from their wedding trip through the South, they will occupy their new home in Northridge road.

Among those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Colville, Mr. and Mrs. George Colville, Miss Mary Margaret Moore, Mr. Sheldon Mader, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barnhart, Glenn Barnhart, Miss Wahnta Barnhart, of Circleville.

Pomona Grange

About 140 grangers attended the meeting of the Pomona grange Saturday at Darbyville.

The session opened at 10:30 o'clock, and the reports of the committees from the county grangers were received during the morning. A delightful dinner was served at noon.

Six candidates were obligated in the first degree during the afternoon session. They were Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Tener, Darbyville grange; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Palm, of Washington grange, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hudson, of Scioto grange.

The program was opened with a vocal duet by the Misses Elizabeth and Anne Reber, of Nebraska grange, who offered, "Sing, Sing, Bird on the Wing". They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen McCord. The Rev. C. E. Thomas, of Nebraska grange, conducted the service for deceased members. Miss Helen McCord of Scioto Valley grange, presented a piano solo, "Country Gardens".

The principal address of the afternoon was given by J. W. Fichter, state lecturer.

Miss Dorothy Glick continued the program with a piano solo, "Firefly". A short play was given by Weldon Leist, Irene Pontius, Loring Hill and Marvene Pontius. Nebraska grange will entertain the next Pomona grange meeting in August.

Washington Alumni

The Washington township Alumni association held its annual meeting Saturday evening at the Gold Cliff Chateau.

During the business session, which followed the dinner served at 7 o'clock, plans were made for a picnic to be held July 25. Plans for a play were then discussed.

Officers were chosen for the ensuing year. They are Miss Olive Hartley, president; Orville Jones, vice president; Miss Eileen Brown, secretary; Boyd Stout, treasurer.

Clyde Leist, toastmaster, welcomed the senior class members who were received in the membership of the society. The response was given by Miss Margaret Leist. Other toasts were given by Thomas Beavers, William Goode, Orville Jones, Boyd Stout, Wendell Boyer, and Miss Hartley.

The seniors present were Margaret Leist, Maynard Matz, William Goode, and Forrest Croman. The alumni present included Carl Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stockman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beavers, Arthur Marshall, Miss Virginia Walters, Lewis Hitler, Miss Alma Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Boyer, James Lovett, Miss Olive

TOMMY HENRICH'S HITTING WINS HIM RECOGNITION AS "PRIZE ROOKIE"

OHIOAN CLOUTS BALL TO ASSIST YANKEES' DRIVE

New York Team Goes Into Top Spot By Virtue of Youth's Ability

MACKMEN NOW SECOND

Homer, Triple and Single Counted in Sunday Go

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, May 17—(UP)—The New York Yankee prize rookie berth, left vacant by Joe DiMaggio's graduation into the second year class, was filled today by Thomas David Henrich, the Ohio boy who saw Babe Ruth blast three straight pitches over the fence and decided to become a ballplayer.

Declared a free agent this spring by Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Henrich signed a Yankee contract, was shuttled to the Yankees' Newark farm club, then hurriedly recalled last week when outfielder Jake Powell was operated on for appendicitis and Roy Johnson was sold to the Boston Bees. He stepped into the breach so capably that the Yankees won three out of the four games he played and improved their American league position from fourth to first.

Bargain at $20,000
This 21-year-old lad who learned to play softball in his home town of Massillon and participated in organized ball only three seasons before skyrocketing to the majors admits "I got a break" and is out to show the front office he is a bargain at $20,000, the bonus New York paid him for signing.

He played the major role in the Yankees' 8-4 win over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, driving in four runs with a homer, triple and single. The day previous he cleaned the loaded sacks with a triple to give New York a 6-5 win over the A's.

Henrich is batting the ball at a .412 clip in his four major league starts, hitting safely seven times in 17 trips. Four of those blows were for extra bases.

Philadelphia dropped into second place by the loss, but they'll have a chance to go back ahead today before New York departs for home. Only one other American game is scheduled today, Boston playing at Washington, while the western teams move east for their first invasion.

JIMMY HINES ON TOP IN MAJOR GOLF TOURNEY
BLOMFIELD, N. J., May 17—(UP)—Jimmy Hines held his first Metropolitan Open golf championship today. The Garden City, N. Y., pro shot even par on the last 36 holes yesterday to beat out Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa., by a stroke.

Hines carded 70-70 which added to his 139, gave him a 72-hole aggregate of 279. Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., ace who led with a 138 at the halfway mark faded badly in the final round, going five over par with 71-74 for a 283 total. Picard shot 69-70 for an aggregate of 280 and second money.

VETERANS HELP CINCINNATI WIN FROM CUB TEAM

CINCINNATI, May 17—(UP)—A trio of veterans, "Wild Bill" Hallahan, Kiki Cuyler and Chick Hafey today had teamed to give the Cincinnati Reds their second straight triumph over the Chicago Cubs and put the club within striking distance of a first division berth.

Hafey, making his appearance in a National league game in two seasons, lifted a towering fly to right field in the ninth inning yesterday to drive in the run that enabled the Reds to down the Cubs, 3 to 2.

It was the 37 year old Cuyler, the real spark-plug of the Cincinnati team, that scored the winning counter. Hallahan received credit for the triumph after he had relieved husky Don Brennan.

Young Al Hollingsworth started the contest for the Reds and pitched excellent ball for seven innings, but he lost his effectiveness in the eighth and was promptly jerked in favor of Brennan.

The aging Charley Root was the starting hurler for the Cubs.

County Athletes Tally Points In Two Meets

Circleville and Pickaway county athletes did fairly well in the central district track and field meet at Delaware, Saturday, the Tigers scoring six points to finish tenth, Ashville counting 15 points in the B meet to end up in the fifth spot, and Scioto, Pickaway county titlist, tallying eight to cop the tenth position.

The mile run record set by Earl Hussey, of C.H.S. in 1929 when Circleville was in class B, was shattered by Baird, of Brown township, who did the distance in 4 minutes 45 second, sixth-tenths of a second faster than Hussey's mark.

Trego's Mark Shattered
Another record held by a countian, Ellsworth Trego, of Commercial Point, was broken Saturday in the Capital university-Otterbein dual meet, won by the former. Trego's high jump of 5 feet 10.5 inches, a record for the Capital athletic field, was shattered by Lou Rutter, Otterbein ace, when he went 6 feet 4 of an inch.

Circleville's points in the district meet were scored by Bob Owens, who finished fourth in the 440-yard dash, and Kenny Smith, who came in second in the half mile run.

Ashville was help materially by a first place in the mile relay, the team of Hoover, J. Gregg, and Reese, doing the time in 3 minutes 47.1 seconds. Dick Hoover, Ashville, was third in the 440. W. Gregg was third in the half mile run, Mallory was second in the pole vault, which was won with an 11 feet 2 inch leap.

Beavers, Sheets Run
Scioto counted its eight points in the 100-yard dash where V. Beavers finished fourth, in the half-mile relay, the team coming in fourth; in the broad jump where Sheets was fifth, and in the 220-yard dash where Sheets was third.

Team standings were: A meet: Columbus North first with 79 points, Newark second with 46, Central with 29, East 15, Bellefontaine 14, Delaware 14, Westerville 13, South 13, Kenton 10, Circleville 6, Lancaster 6, Mt. Vernon 6, Bexley 3, and Aquinas 2. Class B scores were Upper Arlington, 75½; Groveport, 37½; Brown township, 24; Canal Winchester, 20; University 8, 12; Morral, 9; Scioto township, 8; Ashley, 8; Caledonia, 6; Gahanna Lincoln, 4; Worthington, 4; Green Camp, 3; Pleasant township, 3.

BOBCATS CLOSE TO B.A.A. BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

COLUMBUS, May 17—(UP)—Ohio university today was within one short step of its first undisputed baseball championship in Buckeye conference history.

The great Bobcat team scored its eighth straight league triumph Saturday when it turned back the University of Cincinnati by a 2 to 0 count.

The game was the first this season in which Ohio U. has been given a battle by a conference rival. The heroes of the triumph were the Bobcat battery mates, Tony Reis and Woody Wills. Reis let the Bearcats down with but three hits. Wills secured that many for himself.

The triumph over Cincinnati was the 12th in a row Ohio U. has scored and its 20th in 23 games this season. Two of the losses were by a margin of one run.

ROXIE LAWSON PROVING HELP TO DETROITERS

Roxie Lawson . . . sounds like a burlesque comedian . . . old Roxie, shipped to the nether regions by the Indians several years ago, might still be flinging for Toledo if General Alvin Crowder's stomach hadn't started cutting up on him in the closing days of the flag race of 1935 . . . Cochrane combed the countryside and came up with Lawson . . . Roxie proved he was much better than dandruff by pitching two successive shutouts . . . well, thought Cochrane . . . but last year, Roxie seemed to be going back to his ancient habits of throwing fence balls with the bases clogged . . . Cochrane was ready to send him away nine times, but changed his mind just as he was about to tell Roxie to pack up.

So what? . . . comes 1937, and Rowe, Bridges and other Tiger aces come down with bad cases of blackheads or something . . . and Cochrane decides to give Lawson's name to the umpire because somebody has to pitch . . . what's the answer? . . . four starts for Lawson . . . four straight victories before a loss . . . whoops!

KINGSTON

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church met on Wednesday afternoon, May 12, in the Community Room.

The president appointed Mesdames Claud Reynolds, Della Garrett and W. A. Raub on the visiting committee. The secretary, Mrs. Curtis Dumm, read the minutes of the April meeting and called the roll. A collection was taken and the sale of cakes and other food brought $10.12 to the treasury. At the close of the business session

About This And That In Many Sports

Runners, Baseballers, Golfers and Bowlers

Leo Black, Red and Black's polevaulting star, had to go too high to score any points, Saturday at Delaware — He vaulted to 11 feet, but couldn't pass that mark.

Ashville's relay team came within a split second of tying the district B record—Tiger harriers will meet Bexley in a dual meet on the east Columbus track; with any breaks, the Tigers should win . . . Willis Liston knocked off first place in the Pickaway Country club's blind bogey contest Sunday.

He received a No. 5 iron—Other prize winners were George Myers and L. M. Mader, each winning golf balls . . . Many players took advantage of a splendid course, despite a heavy rain . . . According to the softball league schedule Kingston and the Container Corporation are scheduled to play tonight; rain has disrupted the regular schedule, so we're waiting to hear from Secretary Joe Glitt about the proper lineup of games.

Tommy Henrich, the Massillon, O. athlete, is earning his salary with the Yankees, smacking the ball with reckless abandon and turning in a neat game in the outer pastures . . . Chick Hafey returned to the wars, Sunday, to drive in the run that won a ball game for the Cincinnati Reds — The big fellow, who has been hit with sinus trouble for a long while, strode to the plate with Ki Cuyler on third base—He hit a short fly to right and Cuyler beat Demaree's throw to the plate to win the fray—Nearly 20,000 looked on as the Reds edged the Chicagoans, riddled by injuries, for the second straight day . . . Frank Marion, esquire and champ spelled with an 'a', knocked off first money in the Athletic Club's headpin tournament with his brilliant 117 score —Second and third went to Lou Vining and Crissinger, who tied with 114—Had Marion waited until Saturday night to kegle his big score the pot would have been much larger than it was . . .

a short program was enjoyed, the members reading amusing clippings. The committee consisting of Mesdames Frances Kreisel, Madge Minor, Ada Anderson, Alice Brundige and Miss Georgia Jacobs served angel-food cake with whipped cream and pineapple dope, coffee and mints.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

MOST BRILLIANT OF ALL BIDS ARE based on not only the cards you hold but those which you can infer your partner holds. They also have a purpose additional to the effort to obtain a contract. Most brilliant of all are those which definitely mislead the opponents into presenting you with a gorgeous gift.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)
J. Harlin O'Connell of the Union club in New York, individual champion of the Inter-Club league, was sitting in the East position when this deal came up. The dealer in the South opened with 1-Spade, North called 2-Clubs and Mr. O'Connell's bid was 2-No Trump. Over this South promptly doubled, which West promptly doubled. North rescued with 4-Clubs, which East doubled, and South was forced to bid the spades at the 4 level, which was doubled.
Mr. O'Connell's theory was that, as North bid another suit, he did not hold 4 of his partner's spades, and his own blank constituted no risk, as West surely had the suit well stopped. In fact, South would probably have enough spades to be lured by the 2-No Trumps into rebidding, especially since South would be made to think that any missing spade honors were at his right. South fell for the ruse and rebid his spades on the assumption that he had no defense against the no trump game. Just as Mr. O'Connell foresaw, West could double this, North desperately tried to rescue, and the net result was a set of 5 tricks, worth 900 points to Mr. O'Connell's side

100 FAMILIES TAKEN OFF COMMODITY LIST AS FARM WORK INCREASES

240 REMAIN ON COUNTY RELIEF ROLLS FOR MAY

Many Surplus Products To Be Distributed Tuesday Morning

MARCY MAKES STATEMENT

Most of Clients Dropped Provide For Selves

Increase of farm employment in recent weeks has caused removal of approximately 100 families from the list of those receiving surplus commodities. D. H. Marcy, county relief director, disclosed Monday morning. The total families receiving this aid is now about 240.

Mr. Marcy explained those dropped were families who had not been asking relief of some type since May 1, largely in townships. Many of the families obtained relief during the winter months but left the relief rolls when spring work began on farms. Those eligible for commodities include cases on county relief, dependent children, blind pensions and soldiers' relief.

A distribution of commodities, including celery, canned milk and dried milk, will be held Tuesday. City clients will report in the morning. County clients may report throughout the day.

by Mr. James, went through the guardrail, knocked a large stone out of the bridge abutment, and overturned against a tree on the creek bank. The auto was demolished, and how the occupants escaped without more serious injuries puzzled members of the sheriff's department. Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver investigated the mishap.

Joseph Green, who resides in Pickaway township, told Sheriff Charles Radcliff his car was damaged Saturday evening when side-swiped by another car at the bridge over Deer creek on Route 104 in Ross county. No one was injured, he said.

Mr. Green did not learn the name of the driver of the other car and asked the sheriff's department to check a license number.

Two Columbus men were drenched with water, but escaped serious injury, and thousands of minnows being hauled to a Columbus bait store were spilled on Route 23, about six miles north of Circleville, Saturday afternoon when an auto overturned.

Edward Collinsworth, 30, of 915 Pennsylvania avenue, Columbus, and an assistant, were going north on the highway with a large tank of minnows.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver, who investigated the mishap, said Collinsworth skidded his car, turned off the road, and overturned to avoid striking the truck of Arthur C. Noecker, Route 5, entering the highway.

GYPSIES ESCORTED

Three carloads of gypsies were escorted through Pickaway county Saturday afternoon by Sheriff Charles Radcliff. Residents along Route 22, west of the city, notified the department about the group. Arrangements were made for Sheriff William Belhorn of Fairfield county to meet the cars near Amanda and direct them through that county.

ley replied. "When Senator O'Mahoney comes down here wanting help on a sugar bill, his conscience won't be bothering him, will it? Or when Pat McCarran wants aid for his state? It's all in the point of view."

O'Mahoney, Democratic senator from Wyoming and formerly one of Farley's assistant postmaster generals and McCarran, Nevada Democrat, both are opposing the court re-organization bill. McCarran has advanced a compromise which ultimately may end the judiciary stalemate. It would add only two justices to the high court, increasing its membership to eleven.

There is some confusion here as to Farley's frank statement of administration strategy. It was heard by several newspapermen, most of whom understood the postmaster general's words were "off the record." But the remarks were printed, nevertheless, and clamorous protest is expected from the senate against the intimation that such pressure is to be exerted as the court nears debate on the floor.

SIX-POINT FARM PROGRAM AIRED

trator H. R. Tolley insisted that the program be held to the approximate annual cost of the present soil conservation act, $550,000,000.

Other estimates of the cost ranged from $600,000,000 to $800,000,000 a year. Wallace told the conferees that the administration would not agree to such a figure in view of President Roosevelt's economy program.

The program with the conferees placed before the house agriculture committee today included:

1. A declaration of policy to the effect that elimination of wide variations in farm prices would be in the interests of producers, consumers and processors.

2. Continuation of the soil conservation program with benefit payments reduced by 35 to 50 percent.

3. Commodity loans on corn, wheat, cotton, rice and tobacco when surpluses threaten to lower prices.

4. Additional soil conservation payments similar to the old A. A. A. payments when production exceeds demand to encourage further crop reductions.

5. Compulsory production control through a prohibitive tax on non-complying farmers in case heavy production threatens to swamp markets.

6. Authority for the automatic heightening or lowering of import duties on farm products to prevent domestic farm prices from going too far above or below the "parity" prices to be established by the secretary of agriculture.

"I saw her hit Helen on the head, then I don't remember what happened. I think Mommie hit me on the head but I don't remember."

Asked where he lived, the boy mumbled something that sounded like "Bryant street." He said he thought the number was 32. Officers found no such address in directories available here.

Jimmie, who was clad in a sailor suit with blue trousers and a white blouse when officers found him yesterday, told questioners he was a Catholic and went to church at "Our Lady of Mount Carmel" church.

Officers followed bloodhounds from state police barracks through the woods for further clues.

AUTOPSY COMPLETED

Dr. Grover A. Stillman, coroner, said after an autopsy on the girl's body in Patchogue that she died of "shock, burns of the body, contusions of the head and exposure" some time before noon yesterday.

He said a cut across her throat was not deep enough to have caused death but "may have been a contributing cause."

The burns were caused by ignited gasoline with which, apparently, the killer attempted to destroy the child's body.

White House Pressure May Be Applied to Gain Margin in Upper House; Two Solons Cited

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—The supreme court today concluded handing down opinions without ruling on constitutionality of the old-age pension or unemployment insurance provisions of the social security law.

The court announced it would conclude its present term on June 1.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—The lash of White House displeasure snapped over the senate today and Postmaster General James A. Farley apparently took command of the administration drive to expand the supreme court from nine to 15 members.

The court itself meets at noon, possibly to render an opinion on the constitutionality of unemployment insurance.

The senate judiciary committee meets tomorrow to vote on President Roosevelt's court expansion plan. Rejection of the court program by the committee is practically certain. Various substitutes are before the committee, but some of the "compromise" senators who backed substitutes against Mr. Roosevelt's original proposal are believed now to prefer a straight test and perhaps an all-or-nothing decision on the project.

Paris Agents Seek Clues As Hostess in Night Club Is Stabbed

PARIS, May 17.—(UP)—Murder in the subway, in which an attractive night club hostess was stabbed to death by a killer who vanished within one minute of the slaying, presented the famous French secret police today with one of the most puzzling mysteries in years.

Six persons waiting to board a first class coach of the train which rolled into the Porte Doree station last night saw through the car window the end of the crime.

The victim, 30-year-old Leticia Nourissat, was sitting upright, alone in the carriage. As the train halted, the jolt threw the body to the floor.

The entering passengers, thinking she had fainted, ran forward to help her but started back in horror. A six-inch knife had been driven to the hilt into the back of her neck, behind the right ear.

Her lips still moved but she was unable to make any sound and died in a few minutes without giving any clue to the murderer.

The crime and the getaway from the locked car must have been accomplished with lightning speed, because just one minute elapsed between the time when the train left its starting point at Porte Charenton station, with the girl alive, and its arrival at Porte Doree with the victim drawing her last breath.

The position of the knife made suicide out of the question. Police first asked: how did the (Continued on Page Eight)

MISSING CO-ED MAY BE HIKING THROUGH SOUTH

CLEVELAND, May 17.—(UP)—Investigators believed today that Ruth Baumgardner, missing Ohio Wesleyan university co-ed, might be "hitch-hiking" through the south.

Joseph W. Smith, southern representative for a Detroit furnace company, wrote the suburban Lakewood girl's parents of a couple whom he had driven from Knoxville to Nashville, Tenn. May 7.

"The boy was about 20," Smith wrote, "and called the girl 'Ruthie' and 'Bumby.' She called him 'Frenchy'."

Smith's letter said the couple told him they had come from Delaware, O. (seat of Ohio Wesleyan) through Asheville, N. C. and were bound for Texas.

Investigators for Miss Baumgardner's family said "these are the hottest clues" yet.

The girl last was seen May 3 at Austin Hall, a dormitory, at Ohio Wesleyan. She was a senior and 21.

SIX-POINT FARM PROGRAM AIRED

Secretary Wallace Tells Plan To Replace A. A. A., Ruled Unlawful

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(UP)—Farm leaders and the department of agriculture today completed a six-point farm legislative program to take the place of the old A. A. A.

Department of agriculture and officers of the American Farm Bureau federation were reported in "substantial agreement" on the program and the only point of difference was the cost.

The program would employ the principle of the flexible tariff on agricultural imports, guarantee farmers and consumers stabilized prices through an ever-normal granary and provide a positive control of production.

PRICE OF MOST STOCKS LOWER IN EARLY TRADE

NEW YORK, May 17.—(UP)—Stocks fluctuated narrowly in light trading today. Prices sagged during the morning until leading issues were off fractions to more than a point. Some made meager recoveries. Utilities softened after early steadiness. Ralls held their own.

Chrysler held a ¼ point gain at 109¼. Other issues to register gains included Western Union at 58 up ¼ and Anaconda 49 up ¼. General Motors and U. S. Steel were unchanged.

Fractional declines were noted in Standard of New Jersey, Du Pont, Chesapeake & Ohio, Atchafalaya, Consolidated Edison, United Corporation preferred, Loews, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, American Telephone and North American.

WALLACE LISTS FOUR TO CONFER ON LIGHT RATES

Edward Mason, Wallace Crist, Nathan Groban and Fred Brunner were appointed by W. E. Wallace, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Monday, as members of the committee to confer with councilmen and representatives of the Southern Ohio Electric Co. on electric rates.

A conference of the three groups will be held in the near future for a general discussion of the commercial light rates offered by the company.

A. R. Stacey, of Cincinnati, a representative of the Fairbanks-Morse Co., spoke at the Chamber of Commerce meeting on municipal light plants. The speaker cited instances in which municipal plants had proven economical and an advantage to public interests.

Stacey explained the city must first determine whether or not a municipal plant is wanted. He said a survey made about five years ago could be revised for an estimate of plant costs.

Youngster Tells Officers He Has "Two Daddies"

NEW YORK, May 17.—(UP)—Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 28, attractive blonde employed by a plating factory, told police today that she was the mother of an 8-year-old girl found slain in the woods near Brookhaven on Long Island and told a story of an attack on herself and her two children by a "strange man."

BROOKHAVEN, N. Y., May 17.—(UP)—A 4-year-old boy who told officers his name was "Jimmy Tierney" and that he had "two daddies," today accused his mother of slaying his 8-year-old sister, Helen, and said he believed she "hit me" too.

The boy, his head bruised and his throat cut, was found in the woods east of here 135 feet from the body of his sister, who had been beaten, slashed and burned.

The boy's first mumbled replies to questioners at the Community hospital, in Patchogue, had given officers the impression that his mother, too, might have been attacked in the woods. Later, however, he said that he saw his mother "hit Helen on the head."

C.I.O. Continues Drive In Hocking Glass Plant

LANCASTER, May 17.—(UP)—George De Nucci, of Columbus, field representative for the Committee for Industrial Organization, said today formal charges against the Hocking Glass Co. would be filed with the National Labor Relations board.

LANCASTER, May 17.—(UP)—Representatives of the Committee for Industrial Organization said today they would proceed with plans to organize workers of the Hocking Glass Company, Lancaster's largest industrial concern.

George De Nucci, C.I.O. field representative for central Ohio, who was stopped at the city limits by Lancaster police Sunday while on his way to speak at a meeting of glass workers, was to report on the incident today to John Owens, state C.I.O. director.

De Nucci and Avery Dennis of Columbus were forced to turn back by police as they approached the city limits.

Stopped at Hilltop

"Just as we reached the top of the hill entering Lancaster on Route 31 we were stopped by a policeman," De Nucci said. "A police cruiser was parked in the middle of the street. All cars were being stopped."

"I asked Police Chief Gail Seiler what it was all about and he ordered me back in the car with an oath and told Mr. Dennis to turn around in the street and head for Columbus."

"There was a crowd of about 200 persons looking on. There were 12 Lancaster policemen in uniform and a number of deputies in plain clothes carrying clubs. Two of the deputies had machine guns."

"I protested to Chief Seiler that I had a constitutional right to attend the meeting in Lancaster and that I was not there to stir up trouble. The chief said there would (Continued on Page Eight)

DATE OF DUKE'S MARRIAGE TO BE KNOWN TUESDAY

MONTS, France, May 17.—(UP)—The Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield intend to announce their wedding plans tomorrow afternoon, and it was believed certain that they had selected a day during the first week of June for the ceremony.

Herman L. Rogers, who with his wife entertained Mrs. Warfield at Cannes after her flight from London during the abdication crisis, is to make the announcement as their spokesman at the Chateau De Candé here.

The Duke, Mrs. Warfield, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and Lieut. Dudley Forwood, the duke's equerry, were dinner guests last night of Mr. and Mrs. Crafston Winthrop Minot of France and New York at their Chateau D'Azay, D'Azay-sur-Indre, near here.

After the dinner Carl Codman, author and member of the war-time Lafayette Escadrille, presented the duke with a copy of his just-completed book "Contact" on war flying. Codman and his wife are house guests of the Minots.

Route 56 Culvert, Scippo Creek Structures Hit by Vehicles

Eight persons were injured in a series of automobile accidents in Pickaway county Saturday night and Sunday. Four were hurt when two cars struck the same culvert on Route 56, about 12 miles east of the city, Sunday morning. Four others were injured Saturday night when an auto crashed through the guardrail and overturned on the Kingston pike at the Scippo creek bridge.

Betty Bradley, 16, of Waterville, suffered several broken teeth and cuts through the lips, and Mary Brown, 17, also of Waterville, received a bruised ankle when the car in which they were riding slid into the culvert on Route 56.

Three Uninjured

David H. Walcott, 16, of Waterville, driver, told Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell the car skidded on the wet highway when he applied his brakes. The driver and Edwin Fischer, 16, and Albert Santner, 16, the latter two also of Waterville, escaped uninjured.

Walcott's car swerved across the highway, Fissell was told, and a car driven by Charles R. Page, Jr., 25, of 1348½ N. High street, Columbus, crashed into the same culvert to avoid striking the first wrecked car. Both Mr. and Mrs. Page suffered cuts and bruises on their heads.

Both cars were going east on Route 56.

Persons injured in the accident on the Kingston pike were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel James, 2064 Refugee pike, Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett, of Obetz Junction. Mr. Everett, 36, who suffered a severe scalp laceration and a bruised right leg, was treated at Berger hospital by Dr. H. D. Jackson. He was discharged at noon Sunday. Mrs. James suffered a cut on the forehead and the others had minor cuts and bruises.

WASHINGTON'S PLAY OFFERED WEDNESDAY EVE

"Aunt Emma Sees It Through," a comedy in three acts will be presented by the Washington township senior class on Wednesday evening, May 19, at 8 o'clock.

Louise and Kathryn Adair are two attractive sisters who are living with their old maid aunt Emma who carefully keeps them away from any suitors. Louise desires to marry, so she engages the services of a matrimonial bureau. The bureau sends three prospects, Dick Christianson, who was raised on a farm, Bud Gates and Jack Norris, two more modern youths. They find they are rivals for Louise's hand. But Dick is attracted by Kathryn and Bud, together with the help of Dick and Jack, attempts to "modernize" Aunt Emma, and teach her a few games.

Joe Sparks, another prospect sent by the matrimonial bureau, arrives late and is cleverly disposed of by Jack.

An abundance of comedy and diplomacy is portrayed by Jack.

Lancaster Men Seek Pinball Game Permits

LANCASTER, May 17—Two Lancaster men who claim to be owners of the majority of pin-ball machines operating in this city announced today they would appear before city council at its next meeting, Monday night, May 24, and request legislation levying taxes on the devices and requiring licenses of the operators.

R. C. Boystel, 165 Marks-av., who said he owned 30 machines, and Chester O. Conrad, 403 South Broad street, who said he owned 20, defined their object as "eliminating machines operated by owners living outside of Lancaster." They estimated the total number of the devices in this city at 90.

"Twelve or 15 of these belong to outsiders," declared Conrad. "By licensing operators, these will be removed. To operate just a few machines, no owner will pay the $250 or $300 annual license we recommend."

In addition to such license, Boystel and Conrad proposed an annual $5 machine tax on each device, to be paid by the owner, and a $5 location tax on each, to be paid by the merchant in whose place of business the machine is operated.

Estimates $2500 Revenue
George Belhorn, Democratic councilman from the Fourth Ward, who brought up the subject of pin-ball machine taxation at last council meeting, today estimated revenue from the source proposed would total $2,500 or $2,600 per year. He said he approved this manner of raising funds and believed council would take favorable action.

At present, pin-ball machines pay no local tax or license. The owners pay 10 percent, federal excise tax and 3 percent state sales tax when they purchase the devices, which are bought at an average cost of $70 each, according to Conrad and Boystel.

A tire blowout seems to have caused the trouble.

Gasoline Hose Cut
The Berry North Side filling station was tampered with Friday night, the hose leading from the pump being sawed off. The gas thieves whoever they may have been, evidently were scared away, because the lock which prevented the pump handle from being used, had not been interfered with.

Two Boys Unhurt
Ira Martin and Warren Huffman, South Bloomfield, while returning to their homes after attending the Junior-Senior banquet and dance at the school building Saturday night, met with an auto accident while rounding the curve in E. Main street. Their machine was considerably damaged, but the boys escaped any serious injury.

WEAVER TO LEAD SCOUTING GROUP TO BIG JAMBOREE

COLUMBUS, May 17—Philip "Pop" Weaver has been chosen to lead the central Ohio delegation to the National Boy Scout Jamboree which will be held in Washington, D. C., June 29 to July 8.

Mr. Weaver is the scout commissioner of the southeast district of Columbus, and will step from that position directly into giving leadership to the six troops of scouts as they entrain for the national capital. Mr. Weaver at one time was scout executive at Fairmont, West Virginia, and is now in business in Columbus.

The jamboree delegation from central Ohio will assemble at Camp Lazarus on Sunday morning, June 27, to enter on an intensive training experience before undertaking the trip to Washington, D. C.

SCREEN ACTORS AND PRODUCERS IN AGREEMENT

New Contract Prohibiting Strikes For Next 10 Years Approved

2,000 ATTEND CONFAB

Demand for More Salaries for Lesser Stars Okehd

HOLLYWOOD, May 17—(UP)—Movie actors and producers were bound today by a new contract that prohibited strikes for the next ten years.

The higher-salaried stars gave a few concessions, won about 30 in return, and their demands for better salaries for minor players, over which they had threatened to strike, were granted in full.

Two thousand actors turned out last night for the third decisive meeting of the Screen Actors' Guild in as many weeks. The executive committee, which has final authority to negotiate, announced that it had ratified the 10-year contract and that practically all major studios had signed it.

All Actors In Guild

Nearly all actors, from the $5 a day extras to the stars who earn a quarter of a million dollars a year, belong to the guild. It is directed by the executive committee, which includes President Robert Montgomery, Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone, Frederick March, James Cagney, Jean Muir and Lionel Stander. The question of strikes is decided by a vote of the senior group, comprised of those who earn more than $250 a week.

The guild first demanded a complete preferential shop. The new contract, in addition to outlawing strikes, provides that producers must hire extras, stunt men, "bit" players, free lance and stock players on a 100 percent guild basis; stars and featured players on a 90 percent guild basis, for the next five years. After five years, all actors must be guild members.

The stars asked nothing for themselves at first, but were willing to strike in behalf of their lower-paid fellows. In the new contract stars were awarded such concessions as the right to their screen names (Lucille Le Sueur, for example, is Joan Crawford), six more holidays a year and three weeks illness leave.

May Hire Some As a concession, studios are permitted to hire 10 percent non-guild members to star or feature in pictures the next five years. Three non-guild stars or featured players may appear in two pictures if the producers turn out 40 pictures a year; in only one if the producers has less than 40 pictures.

TRIO ARRESTED

Police reported three arrests Saturday night, Beatrice Hall, 27, of E. Main street, Chillicothe, posted $10 bond to report in court on May 22 on a charge of breaking a bottle on S. Court street. Emmett Cook, 22, of Circleville, Route 5, posted $5 bond to report at 7:30 p. m. Monday on a drunk and disorderly charge. Frank Rodgers, 65, of S. Pickaway street, arrested for intoxication, was sobered and released.

MATINEE DE SEPTEMBRE

THE ECHO of far-off things murmurs in the reminiscent ear at the news that Paul Chabas is dead in Paris. He was the painter of a picture entitled "September Morn." It came from his brush in 1912 — a pleasant, academic, modest nude of a peasant girl standing in the water.

But a former Union soldier born in Connecticut, saw a reproduction in a New York shop-window in 1913, and this one nude from the ateliers of Paris became world-famous. "Too little morn and too much maid" — such was the artistic criticism of that greatest of critics of the undraped form, Anthony Comstock.

So the picture appeared on millions of calendars and posters and hung in thousands of homes, and in time Chabas came to consider it his chef d'oeuvre. The original went to Russia, and at last came into the possession of an Armenian oil merchant, in whose Paris home it now hangs.

This was all before the era of modern burlesque, musical comedies, night clubs, "art" magazines, nudist camps and general whoop-la. But who among us is able to give a precise definition of progress?

FOR MONDAY HOLIDAYS

A GROUP of well known writers and educators is advocating the establishment of Monday holidays in the United States. It is argued, reasonably enough, that no one is adequately benefited by a one-day mid-week holiday, as there is little let-up in the tension of industrial routine.

If, however, assert the proponents of the new plan, all outstanding holidays were observed on Mondays, no matter on what day they actually occurred, folk would have a chance to relax over a three-day period, returning to work on Tuesdays thoroughly rested and refreshed.

The universal acclaim that always greets Labor Day's long week-end offers food for thought in this connection. A prolonged respite would seem to offer the sort of release that does not bring the let-down of a too hurried holiday observance. In any event, the proposed scheme might be worth a try.

In this free land you need no title to be treated like a king. Just look like a generous tipper.

Nearly all men are honorable. The trouble is that each defines honor to fit what he wishes to do.

LAWYERS BRING INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON — Watch for some fireworks within the Federal Communications Commission within the near future.

For a long time the FCC has been one of the most haphazard and politically-minded institutions in Washington, and now some of the practices below its surface are coming to the top.

One of these is the custom certain radio lawyers have of corraling a bevy of Commission stenographers to entertain their visiting clients on dull Washington evenings.

Another is the substitution of papers in the Commission's files, accomplished by certain radio lawyers through the cooperation of friendly FCC stenographers.

Another is the setting up of dummy companies in order to secure or oppose the granting of wave-length licenses.

A group of righteous FCC Commissioners, irate at what has been going on under their own noses, are now investigating the later practices. They will expose the fact that a Washington law firm set up a corporation composed of three stenographers in order to file petitions with the Commission regarding radio licenses at Cheyenne, Wyo., Portland and Aroostook, Maine.

SIMPLE SYSTEM

The system is very simple. The dummy corporation applies for a license in order to prevent another company from obtaining it. Or again the dummy may get a license, then turn around and sell it to a bonafide company. Or the dummy may operate on behalf of the company which already owns a wave-length, and by applying for an additional channel, keep a competitor out.

While accomplishing all this the dummy consists of three stenographers.

Another FCC development attracting attention is the sudden reversal of Examiner John P. Bramhall in favor of increased power for the Boston station WMEX, in which ex-Governor Curley is reported to be interested. Bramhall had expressed opposition to upping the station in February. But suddenly and mysteriously he reversed himself.

There has been a lot of internal rowing among FCC commissioners regarding a clean-up. Old-line Democrats in the FCC fear a congressional investigation. Progressive Commissioners welcome it. They may get their wish.

JUSTICE VAN DEVANTER

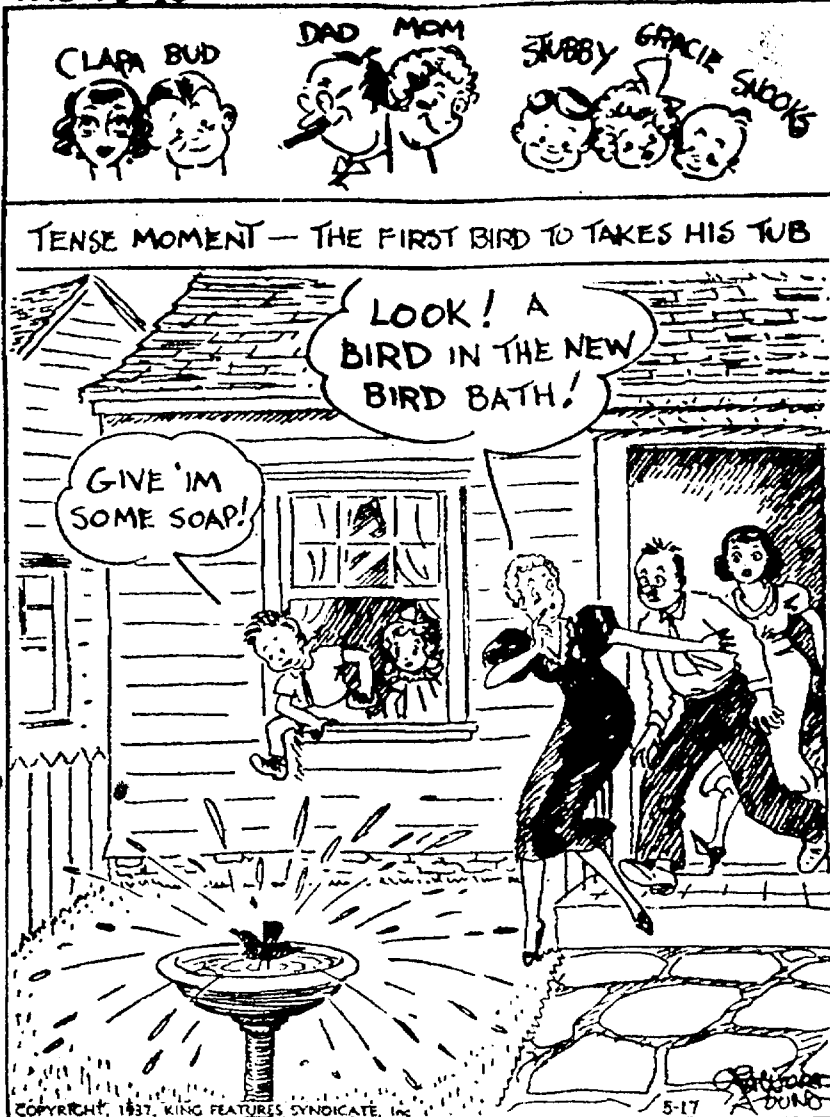

The current term will be the last that Justice Willis Van Devanter serves on the Supreme Court.

He has definitely decided to retire. Van Devanter is 69 years old and in poor health. His 27 years on the bench are weighing heavily on him, and he will take advantage of the new Supreme Court pension law and return to private life. Under this measure, fathered by Chairman Hatton Sumners of the House Judiciary Committee, Justices can now retire on full pay — $20,000 a year.

Whether Van Devanter will announce his resignation when the Court quits for the summer, or wait until the President's judiciary bill has been acted on by Congress, still is in doubt. Opponents of the measure are eager for him to make his decision known immediately, as they are confident it would be the knockout blow to the Roosevelt plan.

DIET AND HEALTH

Doctor Tells of Sources of Spring Hay Fever

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
 IT LOOKS as if American hay fever were going to conquer the world. This country has the worst fall hay fever in the world, but we are getting reports from Denmark that plants causing autumnal hay fever in the United States have found their way into Denmark through imported grass seed. Western ragweed has gained entrance there through imported chicken feed. It is a hardy variety, and it is feared that it will become one of the common weeds in Denmark.

Dr. Clendingen

The seed part of it is the case of a patient, who is reported to have had to leave the United States on account of hay fever and went back to his native Denmark. There he was quite comfortable until two years ago, when his sensitivity showed up again.

Our spring hay fever is no worse and no better than anybody's else. The first account of hay fever came from John Boastock, an Englishman, who described his own case in 1819, it being of the vernal or spring type.

Grass Pollen Responsible
 Most of the spring cases are due to the pollen of the grasses; in early May some of the trees—elm, poplar, maple, oak, sycamore, walnut, elder and birch. It is difficult to see how some of these trees can be classified as the cause of hay fever, because the pollen is so tenacious and sticky. In late spring, timothy, orchard grass, blue grass and red top grass in this country are the usual causes.

It is time to remind you, therefore, that the period of pre-seasonal preventive treatment is at hand. Doctors who specialize in this treatment are somewhat divided as to whether the pre-seasonal or the perennial treatment is best. The perennial treatment means that immunization should take place all through the year. Pre-seasonal treatment means immunization for about three or four weeks before the attack is expected.

THE BUILDING OF THE NEST

They'll come again to the apple tree—
 Robin and all the rest—
 When the orchard branches are fair to see.
 In the snow of the blossoms dressed;
 And the prettiest thing in the world will be
 The building of the nest.
 Weaving it well, so round and trim,
 Hollowing it with care—
 Nothing too far away for him,
 Nothing for her too fair—
 Hanging it safe on the topmost limb.
 Their castle in the air.
 Ah! mother bird, you'll have weary days
 When the eggs are under your breast,
 And shadows may darken the dancing rays
 When the wee ones leave the nest;
 But they'll find their wings in a glad amaze,
 And God will see to the rest.

So come to the trees with all your train
 When the apple blossoms blow;
 Through the April shimmer of sun and rain,
 Go flying to and fro;
 And sing to our hearts as we watch
 Your fairy building grow.
 —Margaret Sangster

The Original Evil!

The surgeon, the lawyer and the politician were debating the value of their respective callings to the human race.

"You fellows make me tired," said the surgeon. "It was a surgical operation that gave woman to the world. Where would the human race have been without that?"

"All very well," said the lawyer, "but we brought the world into order out of chaos."

The politician swallowed hard for a moment, but his eye lit up and he said triumphantly:

"And where do you suppose chaos came from?"

CHAPTER 52
 "MY DEAR," soothed Mrs. Smith as Jacqueline pointed a questioning finger at Lutman, "that's Colonel Lutman. You remember him, don't you? Come and sit down, dear, and..."
 "Remember him?" exclaimed Jacqueline wildly. "I shall never forget him, mother—never as long as I live. You think he's your friend, don't you? You think he's all that's kind and generous and honest, don't you? But he isn't!"
 "Jacqueline!" exclaimed her mother sharply. "If you're going to talk like that..."
 "I'm going to tell you, mother. He isn't kind and generous and honest. I always knew he wasn't. Only you wouldn't believe me. He's just a dirty, crooked swindler!"
 "Jacqueline!"
 "It's true. I can prove it's true."
 "Before you say another word, Jacqueline, listen to me. Colonel Lutman has just asked me to marry him, and I have consented." Jacqueline flinched as though someone had struck her.
 "Marry him? Mary Colleen Lutman? For heaven's sake, I mother! You can't really mean that?"
 "I certainly do mean it, and unless you are prepared to treat Colonel Lutman with the respect that is due to him..."
 "Respect? Listen, mother. You've got to listen. You don't understand. He's foul—vile. The very fact that he has asked you to marry him shows how utterly vile he is!"
 Lutman was standing by the mantelpiece, resting an elbow on it, his face expressionless except for the suggestion of amused indifference in his eyes.
 "Look at him, mother!" exclaimed the girl. "If he doesn't believe me, look at him! Do you think that if he had a spark of decency in him he could stand there like that and hear me say all I have said, and never utter a word? There's nothing he can say, because he knows it's true, because he realizes the game's up. He didn't count on my turning up. He thought it was all plain sailing now." She strode across to Lutman and faced him. "Hadn't you better go?"
 Lutman removed his elbow from the mantelpiece and glanced at Mrs. Smith.
 "In the circumstances, Millicent," he said calmly, "it would perhaps be wiser for me to leave you. Jacqueline is obviously very much overwrought and hysterical, and as my presence seems to excite her..."
 "No!" exclaimed Mrs. Smith. "Stay where you are, Colonel, please." She turned to Jacqueline. "You have behaved outrageously, Jacqueline. Bursting into the room like that and insulting the Colonel—I'm ashamed of you. Either you will apologize to Colonel Lutman..."
 "I'll apologize for nothing, mother," said Jacqueline more calmly. "When you've heard all I have to say..."
 "If you're nothing better to say than the wicked things you have been saying, you had better be silent. Something has evidently happened to upset you, and I'm sure both the Colonel and I are willing to make allowances. But you really must try to control yourself and tell us calmly what is the matter."
 "All right, mother, I'll try to be calm," said Jacqueline. "Colonel Lutman has asked you to marry him, has he? And has he asked you to sign a deed like the one I signed?" She saw her mother's quick glance at Lutman, and smiled. "All right, you needn't answer; I can see that he has. And

Joe's veteran straw hat, once a thing of golden beauty, is now an indifferent tan—that is, in the rare spots that are not hidden by grass stain, dust and the dried drippings from countless carelessly held soda pop bottles.

The crown of the hat caves in at the center like a bride's first cake. The dent is the reason Joe clings to this piece of prehistoric weaver's art, as you will see.

The dent was put there by a baseball bounding homeward from the bat of Babe Ruth a half dozen years ago. The blow knocked Joe dizzy, but he awoke happy despite a headache.

When the club medico examined Joe's skull he found no broken bones but discovered that the mighty Bambino had autographed Joe's topknot with a hump which reared up through his pompadour like Mount McKinley piercing the clouds.

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:
 Up to find the sun ashine and then before end of the coffee and morning paper session came the daily clouds and threat of rain. Out to learn that every horse under the hood of the gas buggy had strayed during the night, so set out afoot, finding the paves practically deserted. Noted plenty of litter in the downtown streets.

See by the paper that the Legion Auxiliary will conduct the annual Poppy Sale next Saturday. Last year did see many folk minus the red blossom and noted several citizens buy and then place the flower in pockets instead of on display. Really, one should be proud to wear that flower. Not so many years ago young Americans rallied around the flag and went overseas to win the World War for the Allies. Many of those young men are still in France, resting under row on row of white crosses. Today in hospitals all over the land are thousands of other former soldiers, most of them hopeless cripples as a result of being patriotic and getting in the way of German shot, shell or gas. Those cripples make the little red flowers sold by the Auxiliary on Poppy Day. They sell them to the Auxiliary and the Auxiliary sells them to you, or tries to. Personally, I enjoy giving a few pennies to lighten the eternal burden of some poor chap who gave everything except blighted life for his country. Buy a poppy and wear it proudly next Saturday.

Noted that the Chamber of Commerce Monday will hear an address on municipal light plant ownership. And that before the air has cleared of talk about municipal waterworks ownership. Wonder what has happened to the municipal sewage disposal plant? Have we, too, quit thinking in the terms of thousands and are no longer able to cypher in anything less than seven figures?

After Roosevelt what? A growing doubt there that probably will balk his judiciary reorganization bill when a show-down vote is taken in the congress. Many who have faith in the President are entirely unwilling to give unlimited power to his successor. Why, some of them say, the successor might even be a Republican. Personally, would rather have the rate of the nation rest in the hands of the nine intelligent, even though old, gentlemen of the high court than with one man. And many ardent Democrats feel the same way.

Many persons calling on George Foerster, who is ill. There goes Charles Landenberger, the gardener, who was inclined to believe an unofficial weather prophet's forecast that the temperature would drop below freezing Monday.

Guests from Sidney arrived during the morning, so a day spent in recalling old times. John Whitney is a chap who tired of living here and there from coast to coast and finally decided to settle down in Sidney and remain if he starved to death. And he almost did, but he finally won and made his trip to the village in a bright and shining new automobile, all paid for.

Miriam L. Barnes Bride Of Emmett Barnhart

Akron M. E. Church
Wedding Scene
Saturday

The marriage of Miriam Lucille, only daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Barnes, 44 Byers avenue, Akron, and Mr. Emmett Wesley Barnhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barnhart, of Montclair avenue, took place Saturday, May 15. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Akron. The father of the bride read the service, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Brown, of Akron.

During the ceremony a program of nuptial music was played by the church organist.

The altar was decorated with palms and great baskets of lavender and white lilies, while four seven-branched candelabra cast a soft glow over the bridal party as they approached the chancel.

The bride wore a gown of white silk net over satin, made with a tight bodice and full court train. Her full length veil was caught to her head with a crown of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Miss Helen Carpenter, her maid of honor, wore orchid silk net over a matching satin slip, fashioned similarly to the bride's dress. She carried a bouquet of orchid lilies.

Miss Wahnita Barnhart, only sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Nancy Cox, of Norwalk, served as bridesmaids. Their dresses were of a delicate shade of orchid, and were of the same material and styling as the gown worn by the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of orchid lilies.

Little Miss Mary Ellen Robinson was in a floor length dress of taffeta of a light shade of orchid. She carried a basket of flower petals, which she scattered in the path of the bride as she approached the altar on the arm of her father.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. John Caldwell, of S. Court street, who served as best man. The ushers were Mr. George Colville, of Circleville; Mr. Edward Haacker, of Circleville; and Mr. Clarence Ray Barnhart, of Mansfield.

Mrs. Barnes, mother of the bride, wore peach silk marquisette and lace over satin, with a shoulder corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Barnhart, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in a blue silk lace, with a shoulder corsage of orchids.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes attended by 150 guests.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart are graduates of Ohio Wesleyan university. Mr. Barnhart is bookkeeper for the Winorr Canning company. After their return from their wedding trip through the South, they will occupy their new home in Northridge road.

Among those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Colville, Mr. and Mrs. George Colville, Miss Mary Margaret Moore, Mr. Sheldon Mader, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barnhart, Glenn Barnhart, Miss Wahnita Barnhart, of Circleville.

Pomona Grange

About 140 grangers attended the meeting of the Pomona grange Saturday at Darbyville.

The session opened at 10:30 o'clock, and the reports of the committees from the county granges were received during the morning. A delightful dinner was served at noon.

Six candidates were obligated in the first degree during the afternoon session. They were Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Tener, Darbyville grange, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Palm, of Washington grange, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hudson, of Scioto grange.

The program was opened with a vocal duet by the Misses Elizabeth and Anne Reber, of Nebraska grange, who offered, "Sing, Sing, Bird on the Wing". They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen McCord. The Rev. C. E. Thomas, of Nebraska grange, conducted the service for deceased members. Miss Helen McCord of Scioto Valley grange, presented a piano solo, "Country Gardens".

The principal address of the afternoon was given by J. W. Fichter, state lecturer.

Miss Dorothy Glick continued the program with a piano solo, "Firefly". A short play was given by Weldon Leist, Irene Pontius, Loring Hill and Marvene Pontius. Nebraska grange will entertain the next Pomona grange meeting in August.

Washington Alumni

The Washington township Alumni association held its annual meeting Saturday evening at the Gold Cliff Chateau.

During the business session, which followed the dinner served at 7 o'clock, plans were made for a picnic to be held July 25. Plans for a play were then discussed.

Officers were chosen for the ensuing year. They are Miss Olive Hartley, president; Orville Jones, vice president; Miss Eileen Brown, secretary; Boyd Stout, treasurer.

Clyde Leist, toastmaster, welcomed the senior class members who were received in the membership of the society. The response was given by Miss Margaret Leist. Other toasts were given by Thomas Beavers, William Goode, Orville Jones, Boyd Stout, Wendell Boyer, and Miss Hartley.

The seniors present were Margaret Leist, Maynard Matz, William Goode, and Forrest Croman. The alumni present included Carl Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stockman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beavers, Arthur Marshall, Miss Virginia Walters, Lewis Hitter, Miss Alma Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Boyer, James Lovett, Miss Olive

OMMY HENRICH'S HITTING WINS HIM RECOGNITION AS "PRIZE ROOKIE"

OHIOAN CLOUTS BALL TO ASSIST YANKEES' DRIVE

New York Team Goes Into Top Spot By Virtue of Youth's Ability

MACKMEN NOW SECOND

Homer, Triple and Single Counted in Sunday Go

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, May 17—(UP)—The New York Yankees prize rookie berth, left vacant by Joe DiMaggio's graduation into the second year class, was filled today by Thomas David Henrich, the Ohio boy who saw Babe Ruth blast three straight pitches over the fence and decided to become a ballplayer.

Declared a free agent this spring by Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Henrich signed a Yankee contract, was shuttled to the Yankees' Newark farm club, then hurriedly recalled last week when outfielder Jake Powell was operated on for appendicitis and Roy Johnson was sold to the Boston Sox. He stepped into the breach so capably that the Yankees won three out of the four games he played and improved their American league position from fourth to first.

Bargain at $20,000

This 21-year-old lad who learned to play softball in his home town of Massillon and participated in organized ball only three seasons before skyrocketing to the majors admits "I got a break" and is out to show the front office he is a bargain at $20,000, the bonus New York paid him for signing.

He played the major role in the Yankees' 8-4 win over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, driving in four runs with a homer, triple and single. The day previous he cleaned the loaded sacks with a triple to give New York a 6-5 win over the A's.

Henrich is batting the ball at a 412 clip in his four major league starts, hitting safely seven times in 17 trips. Four of those blows were for extra bases.

Philadelphia dropped into second place by the loss, but they'll have a chance to go back ahead today before New York departs for home. Only one other American game is scheduled today, Boston playing at Washington, while the western teams move east for their first invasion.

JIMMY HINES ON TOP IN MAJOR GOLF TOURNEY

BLOMFIELD, N. J., May 17—(UP)—Jimmy Hines held his first Metropolitan Open golf championship today. The Garden City, N. J., pro shot even par on the last 36 holes yesterday to beat out Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa., by a stroke.

Hines carded 70-70 which added to his 139, gave him a 72-hole aggregate of 279. Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., ace who led with a 138 at the halfway mark faded badly in the final round, going five over par with 71-74 for a 283 total. Picard shot 69-70 for an aggregate of 280 and second money.

Son of Tesreau

PLAYING first base for Dartmouth college, 20-year-old Charles Tesreau is carrying on the Tesreau baseball tradition. His father, Jeff, was a star pitcher for the New York Giants years ago. The youngster has a batting average of .400.

VETERANS HELP CINCINNATI WIN FROM CUB TEAM

CINCINNATI, May 17—(UP)—A trio of veterans, "Wild Bill" Hallahan, Kiki Cuyler and Chick Hafey today had teamed to give the Cincinnati Reds their second straight triumph over the Chicago Cubs and put the club within striking distance of a first division berth.

Hafey, making his appearance in a National league game in two seasons, lifted a towering fly to right field in the ninth inning yesterday to drive in the run that enabled the Reds to down the Cubs, 3 to 2.

It was the 37 year old Cuyler, the real spark-plug of the Cincinnati team, that scored the winning counter. Hallahan received credit for the triumph after he had relieved husky Don Brennan.

Young Al Hollingsworth started the contest for the Reds and pitched excellent ball for seven innings, but he lost his effectiveness in the eighth and was promptly jerked in favor of Brennan.

The aging Charley Root was the starting hurler for the Cubs.

County Athletes Tally Points In Two Meets

Circleville and Pickaway county athletes did fairly well in the central district track and field meet at Delaware, Saturday, the Tigers scoring six points to finish tenth, Ashville counting 15 points in the B meet to end up in the fifth spot, and Scioto, Pickaway county titlist, tallying eight to cop the tenth position.

The mile run record set by Earl Hussey, of C.H.S. in 1929 when Circleville was in class B, was shattered by Baird, of Brown township, who did the distance in 4 minutes 45 second, sixth-tenths of a second faster than Hussey's mark.

Tregio's Mark Shattered Another record held by a countian, Ellsworth Tregio, of Commercial Point, was broken Saturday in the Capital university-Otterbein dual meet, won by the former. Tregio's high jump of 5 feet 10.5 inches, a record for the Capital athletic field, was shattered by Lou Rutter, Otterbein ace, when he went 6 feet 3/4 of an inch.

Circleville's points in the district meet were scored by Bob Owens, who finished fourth in the 440-yard dash, and Kenny Smith, who came in second in the half mile run.

Ashville was help materially by a first place in the mile relay, the team of Hoover, J. Gregg, and Reese, doing the time in 3 minutes 47.1 seconds. Dick Hoover, Ashville, was third in the 440, W. Gregg was third in the half mile run, Mallory was second in the pole vault, which was won with an 11 feet 2 inch leap.

Beavers, Sheets Run

Scioto counted its eight points in the 100-yard dash where V. Beavers finished fourth, in the half-mile relay, the team coming in fourth; in the broad jump where Sheets was fifth, and in the 220-yard dash where Sheets was third.

Team standings were: A meet: Columbus North first with 79 points, Newark second with 46, Central with 29, East 15, Bellefontaine 14, Delaware 14, Westernville 13, South 13, Kenton 10, Circleville 6, Lancaster 6, Mt. Vernon 6, Bexley 3, and Aquinas 2. Class B scores were Upper Arlington, 75 1/2; Groveport, 37 1/2; Brown township, 24; Canal Winchester, 20; University S., 12; Morrill, 9; Scioto township, 8; Ashley, 8; Caledonia, 6; Gahanna, 4; Worthington, 4; Green Camp, 3; Pleasant township, 3.

BOBCATS CLOSE TO B.A.A. BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

COLUMBUS, May 17—(UP)—Ohio university today was within one short step of its first undisputed baseball championship in Buckeye conference history.

The great Bobcat team scored its eighth straight league triumph Saturday when it turned back the University of Cincinnati by a 2 to 0 count.

The game was the first this season in which Ohio U. has been given a battle by a conference rival. The heroes of the triumph were the Bobcat battery mates, Tony Reis and Woody Willis. Reis let the Bearcats down with but three hits. Willis secured that many for himself.

The triumph over Cincinnati was the 12th in a row Ohio U. has scored and its 20th in 23 games this season. Two of the losses were by a margin of one run.

ROXIE LAWSON PROVING HELP TO DETROITERS

Roxie Lawson! ... sounds like a burlesque comedian ... old Roxie, shipped to the nether regions by the Indians several years ago, might still be flinging for Toledo if General Alvin Crowder's stomach hadn't started cutting up on him in the closing days of the flag race of 1935 ... Cochrane combed the countryside and came up with Lawson ... Roxie proved he was much better than dandruff by pitching two successive shut-outs ... well, thought Cochrane ... but last year, Roxie seemed to be going back to his ancient habits of throwing fence balls with the bases clogged ... Cochrane was ready to send him away nine times, but changed his mind just as he was about to tell Roxie to pack up.

So what? ... comes 1937, and Rowe, Bridges and other Tiger aces come down with bad cases of blackheads or something ... and Cochrane decides to give Lawson's name to the umpire because somebody has to pitch ... what's the answer? ... four starts for Lawson ... four straight victories before a loss ... whoops!

KINGSTON

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church met on Wednesday afternoon, May 12, in the Community Room.

The president appointed Mesdames Claud Reynolds, Della Garrett and W. A. Raub on the visiting committee. The secretary, Mrs. Curtis Dumm, read the minutes of the April meeting and called the roll. A collection was taken and the sale of cakes and other food brought $10.12 to the treasury. At the close of the business session

About This And That In Many Sports

Runners, Baseballers, Golfers and Bowlers

Leo Black, Red and Black's polevaulting star, had to go too high to score any points, Saturday at Delaware — He vaulted to 11 feet, but couldn't pass that mark — Ashville's relay team came within a split second of tying the district B record—Tiger harriers will meet Bexley in a dual meet on the east Columbus track; with any breaks, the Tigers should win ... Willis Liston knocked off first place in the Pickaway Country club's blind bogey contest Sunday — He received a No. 5 iron—Other prize winners were George Myers and L. M. Mader, each winning golf balls ... Many players took advantage of a splendid course, despite a heavy rain ... According to the softball league schedule Kingston and the Container Corporation are scheduled to play tonight; rain has disrupted the regular schedule, so we're waiting to hear from Secretary Joe Glitt about the proper lineup of games.

Tommy Henrich, the Massillon, O. athlete, is earning his salary with the Yankees, smacking the ball with reckless abandon and turning in a neat game in the outer pastures ... Chick Hafey returned to the wars, Sunday, to drive in the run that won a ball game for the Cincinnati Reds — The big fellow, who has been hit with sinus trouble for a long while, strode to the plate with Ki Cuyler on third base—He hit a short fly to right and Cuyler beat Demaree's throw to the plate to win the fray—Nearly 20,000 looked on as the Reds edged the Chicagoans, riddled by injuries, for the second straight day ... Frank Marion, esquire and champ spelled with an 'a', knocked off first money in the Athletic Club's headpin tournament with his brilliant 117 score — Second and third went to Lou Vining and Crissinger, who tied with 114—Had Marion waited until Saturday night to kegle his big score the pot would have been much larger than it was ...

A short program was enjoyed, the members reading amusing clippings. The committee consisting of Mesdames Frances Kreisel, Madge Minor, Ada Anderson, Alice Brundige and Miss Georgia Jacobs served angel-food cake with whipped cream and pineapple dope, coffee and mints.

Kingston — Mr. and Mrs. Riley Ireton and son Jack, of Washington are the guests this week of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beavers.

Kingston — The Garden Club met in a most delightful meeting on Thursday, May 13, in the afternoon at the pleasant home of Miss Ora Rittenour with Mrs. F. P. Long and Mrs. Nelson W. Sutherland assisting hostesses.

A tulip show, under the direction of Mrs. J. P. Gardner and demonstrated by Mrs. Long, was very instructive and much was learned about arrangement of flowers.

Mrs. Yapple the president discussed the Tri State Flower show to be held in Chillicothe in September.

Mrs. Frank L. Haynes the secretary read the minutes and called the roll. The hostesses served delicious tea cakes, tea and homemade mints. Those present to enjoy this meeting were Mesdames R. W. Dunlap, F. L. Haynes, H. E. Yapple, E. A. Artman, Robert Brundige, Ed. Minshall, W. S. Metcalf, May McCullough, Ralph Head, J. P. Gardner, W. R. Sheridan, E. C. Wilkins, N. W. Sutherland, A. U. Brundige, Ida Famulener, F. P. Long, Dennis H. Dreisbach, Mary McKenzie, Ruth McKenzie, Nettie Rader. The following visitors, also, were present: Mrs. Will Jack (Bessie Ford) of Fresno, California, Mrs. Cora Hood and Mrs. Egbert Freshour.

Kingston — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Evans are announcing the birth of a daughter on Wednesday evening, May 12th, at the Berger hospital in Circleville.

Kingston — Mrs. Henry Jones Jr. arrived at home on Thursday after enjoying seventeen days with friends at Millersport.

Kingston — Mrs. W. L. Evans and Mrs. Wallace Evans visited Mrs. Lloyd Evans and new daughter on Thursday afternoon at Berger hospital.

MOST BRILLIANT OF ALL. BIDS are based on not only the cards you hold but those which you can infer your partner holds. They also have a purpose additional to the effort to obtain a contract. Most brilliant of all are those which definitely mislead the opponents into presenting you with a gorgeous gift.

and rebid his spades on the assumption that he had no defense against the no trump game. Just as Mr. O'Connell foresaw, West could double this, North desperately tried to rescue, and the net result was a set of six tricks, worth 900 points to Mr. O'Connell's side.

J. Harlin O'Connell of the Union club in New York, individual champion of the Inter-Club league, was sitting in the East position when this deal came up. The dealer in the South opened with 1-Spade, North called 2-Clubs and Mr. O'Connell's bid was 2-No Trump. Over this South bid 3-Spades, which West promptly doubled. North rescued with 4-Clubs, which East doubled, and South was forced to bid the spades at the 4 level, which was doubled.

Mr. O'Connell's theory was that, as North bid another suit, he did

100 FAMILIES TAKEN OFF COMMODITY LIST AS FARM WORK INCREASES

TO REMAIN ON COUNTY RELIEF ROLLS FOR MAY

Many Surplus Products To Be Distributed Tuesday Morning

MARCY MAKES STATEMENT

Most of Clients Dropped Provide For Selves

Increase of farm employment in recent weeks has caused removal of approximately 100 families from the list of those receiving surplus commodities. D. H. Marcy, county relief director, disclosed Monday morning. The total families receiving this aid is now about 240.

Mr. Marcy explained those dropped were families who had not been asking relief of some type since May 1, largely in townships. Many of the families obtained relief during the winter months but left the relief rolls when spring work began on farms. Those eligible for commodities include cases on county relief, those receiving old-age pensions, dependent children, blind pensions and soldiers' relief.

A distribution of commodities, including celery, canned milk and dried milk, will be held Tuesday. City clients will report in the morning. County clients may report throughout the day.

EDWARD LOSES TITLE AS BEST-DRESSED MAN

NEW YORK, May 17.—(UP)—The Duke of Windsor lost another title today—the world's best dressed man. It passed, as did his throne, to his brother, King George. The Merchant Tailors' Designers Association announced that a nationwide poll of tailors showed 60 percent favored the king and 30 percent wanted the duke to keep the title. The other 10 percent said they'd wait and see how the duke dressed for his wedding.

POPE PIUS TO REST
CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, May 17.—(UP)—It was learned authoritatively today that Prof. Amintore Milani, personal physician to Pope Pius XI, had ordered the pontiff to cancel all audiences until Wednesday "at least," and take a "much needed rest."

TWO DEAD IN FAMILY
COLUMBUS, May 17.—(UP)—Benjamin Daugherty, 41, shot to death his divorced wife, Wilma, 40, wounded her mother, Mrs. Allie Foster, 73, seriously, and then killed himself here last night.

Dismissal Protested

PROTESTING the dismissal of Prof. Jerome Davis, above, from the Yale divinity school faculty, nearly 100 students from the divinity school and nine New England colleges picketed a meeting of the Yale corporation at New Haven, Conn. They asserted Professor Davis was dismissed because of his liberal views, and that academic freedom was threatened.

would be a riot if I attended the meeting."

De Nucci said a policeman accompanied them as far back as Hooker, O.

To Avoid Trouble
"I wanted to avoid trouble," Chief Sessler said. "He agreed to go back without any trouble."

A meeting of glass workers was held yesterday in the Eagles hall here. William G. Muhleman, American Flint Glass Workers representative, of Toledo, and Arthur Elberts, assistant secretary of the union, were speakers.

"We'll organize every man from the cellar to the roof," Muhleman said.

Russell Cunningham, Lancaster attorney and spokesman for Mayor C. E. Moyer's citizens' committee, urged workers to negotiate with the Hocking Glass Co. through the committee.

AUTOS SMASHED IN ACCIDENTS AT THREE BRIDGES

Fatalities Narrowly Evaded As Cars Skid on Slippery County Highways

by Mr. James, went through the guardrail, knocked a large stone out of the bridge abutment, and overturned against a tree on the creek bank. The auto was demolished, and how the occupants escaped without more serious injuries puzzled members of the sheriff's department. Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver investigated the mishap.

Joseph Green, who resides in Pickaway township, told Sheriff Charles Radcliff his car was damaged Saturday evening when side-swiped by another car at the bridge over Deer creek on Route 104 in Ross county. No one was injured, he said.

Mr. Green did not learn the name of the driver of the other car and asked the sheriff's department to check a license number.

Two Columbus men were drenched with water, but escaped serious injury, and thousands of minnows being hauled to a Columbus bait store were spilled on Route 23, about six miles north of Circleville, Saturday afternoon when an auto overturned.

Edward Collinsworth, 30, of 915 Pennsylvania avenue, Columbus, and an assistant, were going north on the highway with a large tank of minnows.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver, who investigated the mishap, said Collinsworth skidded his car, turned off the road, and overturned to avoid striking the truck of Arthur C. Noecker, Route 5, entering the highway.

JOHN LEWIS, 74, DIES; SERVICES TUESDAY 9 A. M.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 9 a. m. in St. Joseph's Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. J. J. Herman officiating, for John Lewis, 74, who died Saturday in St. Francis hospital, Columbus. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery by the Albaugh Co.

Pallbearers will be John Ryan, Paul Kirwin, Loring Allen, Frank Lynch, Dr. Joseph Goeller, and George Tobin, the latter of Lancaster.

Mr. Lewis was a native of Circleville, being born Aug. 8, 1862, a son of Thomas and Anne Ryan Lewis, both natives of Ireland. He never married.

Three sisters, Miss Ella and Mrs. Katherine Kennedy, Circleville, and Mrs. Benjamin Bolender, Columbus, survive.

BRIGNER AND CARPENTER TO FACE COUNTY CHARGES

Two Darbyville men were lodged in the county jail Saturday night by the sheriff's department.

Ernest Brigner, 31, was booked on assault and battery on complaint of his wife, Denny Carpenter, 29, was arrested on charges of being intoxicated and disorderly.

VIOLATIONS COST TWO

Grover Wilkins, Fairview avenue, and Charles Fortner, Ashville, paid $2 each Saturday for traffic violations. Wilkins was assessed for overtime parking and Fortner for blocking an alley.

ley replied. "When Senator O'Mahoney comes down here wanting help on a sugar bill, his conscience won't be bothering him, will it? Or when Pat McCarren wants aid for his state? It's all in the point of view."

O'Mahoney, Democratic senator from Wyoming and formerly one of Farley's assistant postmaster generals and McCarren, Nevada Democrat, both are opposing the court re-organization bill. McCarren has advanced a compromise which ultimately may end the judiciary stalemate. It would add only two justices to the high court, increasing its membership to eleven.

There is some confusion here as to Farley's frank statement of administration strategy. It was heard by several newspapermen, most of whom understood the postmaster general's words were "off the record." But the remarks were printed, nevertheless, and clamorous protest is expected from the senate against the intimation that such pressure is to be exerted as the court nears debate on the floor.

SIX-POINT FARM PROGRAM AIRED

trator H. R. Tolley insisted that the program be held to the approximate annual cost of the present soil conservation act, $550,000,000.

Other estimates of the cost ranged from $600,000,000 to $800,000,000 a year. Wallace told the conferees that the administration would not agree to such a figure in view of President Roosevelt's economy program.

The program with the conferees placed before the house agriculture committee today included:

1. A declaration of policy to the effect that elimination of wide variations in farm prices would be in the interests of producers, consumers and processors.

2. Continuation of the soil conservation program with benefit payments reduced by 35 to 50 percent.

3. Commodity loans on corn, wheat, cotton, rice and tobacco when surpluses threaten to lower prices.

4. Additional soil conservation payments similar to the old A. A. A. payments when production exceeds demand to encourage further crop reductions.

5. Compulsory production control through a prohibitive tax on non-complying farmers in case heavy production threatens to swamp markets.

6. Authority for the automatic heightening or lowering of import duties on farm products to prevent domestic farm prices from going too far above or below the "parity" prices to be established by the secretary of agriculture.

GYPSIES ESCORTED

Three carloads of gypsies were escorted through Pickaway county Saturday afternoon by Sheriff Charles Radcliff. Residents along Route 22, west of the city, notified the department about the group.

Arrangements were made for Sheriff William Behorn of Fairfield county to meet the cars near Amanda and direct them through that county.

CHILD, 4, CLAIMS MOTHER KILLED LITTLE GIRL, 8

out and Mommie took us in the woods.

"I saw her hit Helen on the head, then I don't remember what happened. I think Mommie hit me on the head but I don't remember."

Asked where he lived, the boy mumbled something that sounded like "Bryant street." He said he thought the number was 32. Officers found no such address in directories available here.

Jimmie, who was clad in a sailor suit with blue trousers and a white blouse when officers found him yesterday, told questioners he was a Catholic and went to church at "Our Lady of Mount Carmel" church.

Officers followed bloodhounds from state police barracks through the woods for further clues.

Autopsy Completed

Dr. Grover A. Stillman, coroner, said after an autopsy on the girl's body in Patchogue that she died of "shock, burns of the body, contusions of the head and exposure" some time before noon yesterday.

He said a cut across her throat was not deep enough to have caused death but "may have been a contributing cause."

The burns were caused by ignited gasoline with which, apparently, the killer attempted to destroy the child's body.

CORA LOZIER, 49, DEAD AT HOME NEAR ASHVILLE

Mrs. Cora Lozier, 49, wife of William Lozier, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Isaac Cramble, Harrison township, at 5 p. m. Sunday following a long illness of cancer. Mrs. Lozier was a former resident of Lockbourne.

She was born in Huntington, W. Va., the daughter of Sanford and Mary Haynie Elkins. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Harris, of Columbus; three daughters, Mrs. Chamblet, Mrs. Eva Harber of Madison township, and Mrs. Vergie Williams of Columbus; one sister, Mrs. Ida Moneyham of Huntington; two brothers, Boyd of Huntington, and Fisher Elkins of Paris, Ky., and her mother.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Lockbourne Church of Christ with burial in Walnut Hill cemetery, near Lockbourne, in charge of E. F. Schlegel, Ashville.
